George Bernard Shaw Sees Lenin
The Bootleg Technique
Sucker Is Civilization
Calcutta's Dead Beggar

By Arthur Brisbane

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW and Nancy Astor are in Moscow. Lady Astor will see a great deal of Shaw will talk a great deal interestingly. Mr. Shaw desires to be taken immediately to the tomb in the Red Square where the body of Lenin, preserved almost as it did in life, lies under glass, admired by passing millions.

As Shaw looks at the firm face of Lenin, who saw his brother executed by order of the czar, and ordered the order to execute the czar and his family, Shaw will think then of the difference between men of words and men of deeds.

Those in the Red Square lies a man of deeds His name will last for hundreds thousands of years after the day and date when Shaw's name will be forgotten, with that of other ingenious but petty writers.

OUR DEPARTMENT of state complains pathetically that Canadian rum runners, among others The fishermen of Weymouth, Nova Scotia produce obnoxious gas by mixing dangerous chemicals in the engine exhaust This device blinded and permanently injured the eyes of the crew on one of our coast guard boats

Bootleggers and rum runners on land and sea constantly improve their technique. Bootleggers have smoke cloud attachments on high-powered automobiles, and when pursued by police, seeking to arrest them or divide the load, or its profit the smoke screen is used. It becomes then dangerous for the police to go through the smoke cloud

That idea might have been borrowed from the devilfish, that spreads an inky cloud in the water.

POWERS MOVE NEARER PACT IN GERMAN AID

Two Recommendations for Credit Plans Reported Agreed Upon.

STIMSON IS OPTIMISTIC

Says Conference Makes Progress and Hopes It Will End Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 22—Two recommendations are understood to have been adopted today by the seven-power conference considering Germany's financial crisis.

The first is that the governments concerned should invite the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Federal Reserve bank of the United States and the Bank for International Settlements to renew for three months the $100,000,000 credit they granted to Germany for one month on July 15.

The second is that the principal private banking establishments of the countries concerned should be urged to leave their existing credits in Germany's hands.

These recommendations, it was said, are being presented this afternoon to the finance ministers of the nations participating in the conference for determination as to whether any technical consideration would prevent their being carried out.

Reports Program

Secretary of State Stimson said today in a press conference that the meeting was making progress and he was hopeful it would end tomorrow.

The third session of the seven-power conference got under way in ominous atmosphere so far as full international cooperation in financial relief for Germany is concerned.

Although the pledge of secrecy has been scrupulously observed by the members of the committee of finance ministers, who discussed relief measures for six hours yesterday, it was understood when the plenary session of the conference convened that the Americans and British were opposed directly against the French.

The matter of long term credit for Germany has been practically shelved—a development in line with the proposals of President Hoover, who suggested international cooperation, in consultation with banking interests, for the renewal of Germany's present credits.

Two Principal Aims

Short term credits and the maintenance of existing credits in Germany were seen as the two remaining aims of the conclave. It was understood that the French disagreed strenuously with both projects.

Before the opening of today's session, Secretary of State Stimson had a long conference with Prime Minister MacDonald at the latter's residence, 10 Downing street.

Reports were that the French were unchanged in their demand for political guarantees as a condition to participating in aiding the reich, and that the Paris delegation had made plans to return home by tomorrow.

The delegates will have to meet again tomorrow morning, it was announced when their third session adjourned today.

An official communique reported progress in the consideration of methods for restoring confidence in Germany, and said certain technical questions had been referred to the finance ministers of the participating nations who will meet this afternoon.

MARDONI TO ATTEMPT STRAIT-JACKET ACT

Chautauqua Entertainer Will Demonstrate Ability on Streets.

Aided by Marion police and fire departments, Mardoni, the thrill artist on the Chautauqua program Thursday night, will attempt a strait-jacket escape Thursday at 11:30 a. m. while suspended head down from the topmost rung of a 75-foot aerial fire ladder.

The feat will be attempted at Main and Center streets. Chief of Police W. E. Marks and one of his officers will handcuff Mardoni and strap him tightly in a jacket patterned after the latest "Sing Sing creation."

Fire Chief Thomas J. McFarland and his men will truck the ladder to the scene. An inch rope will be fastened about the ankles of the "second Houdini" and he will be drawn, feet first, to the top rung of the ladder. Dangling 75 feet in the air, and in plain view of the noon-hour crowds, Mardoni will endeavor to extricate himself and toss the empty jacket to the street below.

Mardoni's bride of a few weeks will witness the performance from a seat on the fire truck. She will assist him in [illegible]

Crawford Co. Bootleg Inquiry To Be Reopened

Possible Sensational Developments Are Hinted as Surprise Announcement Is Made in Probe of Alleged "Protection Racket."

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., July 22—Springing a surprise at a time when they were expected to reveal the results of a completed investigation of an alleged bootleg "protection racket" in Crawford county, state and federal prohibition officials here today announced that they would reopen their inquiry into the situation.

The announcement was made following a lengthy conference of dry enforcement officials. Prior to the meeting, which was held behind closed doors, it has been intimated that the probe was virtually finished and cleaned up and that a statement regarding the results would be issued at the close of the conference.

The startling decision, however, to reopen the inquiry, led to the belief that unexpected angles had turned up during the conference and that new and perhaps sensational developments may be in the offing.

Those who attended the secret conference were District Federal Prohibition Commissioner W. N. Woodruff of Cincinnati, his assistant, W. J. Lockhart of Cincinnati, State Prohibition Commissioner Clarence Sears and Deputy State Commissioner E. G. Mathews.

5,500 SEE SON OF AIMEE WED

PROGRAM LASTS 2 HOURS

New Legal Row Looms in Bigamy Case Involving "Ma" Kennedy.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 22—Rolf McPherson, son of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, and his bride, the former Lorna Dee Smith, of Alva, Okla., were honeymooning today.

They were married by Mrs. McPherson before an audience of 5,500 last night at Angelus temple, headquarters of the "four-square gospel" church. The ceremony was broadcast and followed a two-hour program which included light opera, drama and vaudeville

A daughter of the evangelist, Roberta Semple Smyth, and her newly acquired husband, William B. Smyth, former ship's purser, who were to have been bridesmaid and best man, were withdrawn from the wedding party list.

Mrs. McPherson said the program had been "arranged around the four square idea" and that since Smyth is not identified with any of the four temple departments, it "was impossible to place him in the group."

Smyth decided recently that he would not enter temple work and got a job keeping books for an automobile concern.

THIRD SUIT FILED

Alleged Bigamous Husband of "Ma" Kennedy Sued Again.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, July 22—A $250,000 breath of promise suit was on file here today against Guy Edward Hudson, making the third legal action involving him since he went through a marriage ceremony recently with Mrs. Minnie A. Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist.

The breach of promise case was filed yesterday by Mrs. Ethel Lee Parker Harbert, who asserted Hudson had refused to marry her after winning her love and taking her on a pre-nuptial trip in 1929.

While Hudson had the new suit to worry him, Mrs. Kennedy-Hudson was preparing to go to court tomorrow to have her name lopped off at the hyphen. She filed suit last week for annulment of the marriage. The couple was married last month at Longview, Wash., in a picturesque moonlit setting on the banks of a lake.

Mrs. Kennedy-Hudson's annulment petition alleged that at the time of her marriage to Hudson he was already legally wedded to Mrs. L. Margaret Newton-Hudson. The latter has filed suit for divorce.

RADIUM TEST PROVIDED FOR NAVY VESSELS

Decision Made as Result of Defects Found in New Cruisers.

HALF-GRAM PURCHASED

Officials Undecided About Cause of Faults Recently Discovered.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—Concerned over two important defects discovered in its prized 10,000-ton treaty cruisers, the navy department has decided to use radium in detecting vital weaknesses in ship parts such as recently developed under battle tests, it was learned today.

The navy has purchased a half-gram of radium for regular use after successfully trying it out in discovering defects in the stern post castings of five of the eight cruisers of the 1924 program, which cracked under the strain of battle tests recently.

Cause Not Determined

Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams says it is not officially determined whether faulty casting or faulty design was responsible. Officers under him attribute the cracks partly to both causes, that is bad design which failed to allow for internal weaknesses in the casting of such huge blocks. In any event the stern posts are being replaced with much heavier ones. In the cases of the Chester and the Augusta the contractor bears the cost of about $18,000 each under the six months' guarantee against defective material.

Naval constructors have found it advisable to make alternations in all eight cruisers of this group which showed unsatisfactory rolling qualities, making funfire less effective and contributing, according to an officer, to a mishap in which the topmast of the Salt Lake City was snapped off in a high sea some time ago. Work has started on two.

Thorough Inquiry Needed

Whether these deficiencies are due to the normal hazards of naval design, as naval officers insist, or to actually incompetent work is a question which may not be decided except by thorough investigation.

Chairman Britten of the house naval affairs committee telegraphed the United Press that the committee "undoubtedly" would investigate the reported weakness in the cruisers "because accurate gunnery is the most vital element of a warship."

DRY FORCES PLAN BATTLE

Temperance Leaders To Oppose Writing of Wet Planks Into Party Platforms.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN SOON

Will Use Widespread "Educational" Program To Combat "Foes."

By The Associated Press

WESTERVILLE, O., July 22 — The dry forces of the nation will unite immediately and launch a campaign to overthrow any attempts to write a wet plank into the political platforms and nominate wet candidates, Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the world league against alcoholism, announced here today.

The temperature forces will not wait a year to see who is nominated for President and what the platforms say about prohibition, Dr. Cherrington said. As chairman of the strategy board of a union of dry forces, he urged "that the temperance force begin immediately a general educative program which should have its effect on the kind of delegates to be selected for each of the nations' political conventions."

"The foes of prohibition," the secretary said, "even now are scouting about for delegates to the national conventions, although those gatherings are a year hence. The temperance forces have cut out for them a tremendous pre-convention job. They must conduct, in every political district of America, a vigorous, informative campaign, spreading the truth about prohibition, as well as awakening the temperance voters to the importance of the situation."

Dr. Cherrington said that as part of their campaign the dry workers will conduct widespread mass meetings, distribute vast quantities of literature, and make use of the radio.

FORMER BUCYRUS MAN IS STRICKEN

"Judge" McCullough Suffers Attack at Chautauqua Pavilion.

The excitement of meeting an old friend and of retelling tales of days on the Chautauqua platform proved too much of a strain on William M. McCullough of Cleveland last night at Garfield park.

Mr. McCullough, an attorney and known to his friends as "Judge," was backstage at the Chautauqua pavilion talking over old times with George Roberts, manager of the Pamahasika pet show. Mr. McCullough toured Chautauqua as a lecturer some years ago, and Roberts was on the tour with his pets. Both appeared on the same program.

Handshaking, backslapping, hearty greetings, were too strenuous for the nearly 65-year-old attorney. He collapsed and for a few minutes was unconscious. A physician was called and diagnosed the illness as acute indigestion and a condition of heart lesion. It was found later that "Judge" McCullough suffered a nervous breakdown recently.

Mr. and Mrs. McCullough are staying in Bucyrus with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Heller of 327 west Oakwood street, relatives of Mrs. McCullough. Mrs. Heller accompanied Mr and Mrs. McCullough here last night. Mr. McCullough was an attorney in Bucyrus more than 30 years ago. The C. E. Curtis Co. invalid car removed him to the Heller home in Bucyrus.

76 ARRESTED FOR MINE AREA RIOTS

STATE HAS HEART

Rent Moratorium Granted Tenants of Oklahoma Land.

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 22—Oklahoma state is going to be a lenient landlord to 2,120 farmers living on public school land.

Governor W. H. Murray, who himself was once a farmer, has set aside a state statute by executive order and declared a moratorium on the payment of 1930-1931 rentals on 340,000 acres of farm land owned by the state until Feb. 1, 1932.

The order was issued after 60 farmers from Kay, Noble, Garfield, and Grant counties appeared before the governor and other members of the state school land commission yesterday and asked for leniency.

Their spokesmen said that as a result of last year's drouth and present low prices for wheat and oats, many of the tenants would lose their homes if they were compelled to pay rentals this year.

SCHOOL REPORT LISTS ERRORS

Findings of $2,431 Included in Audit of City, Township, Village Records.

LITTLE MONEY INVOLVED

Examiner Says Salaries Paid to Board Members Are Illegal.

Findings totalling $2,431.20 are made in the report of an examination of the accounts of Marion city and county schools for the period July 18, 1927, to May 1, 1931. Copies of the report were received this morning by County Auditor Earl E. Thomas and County Prosecutor R. M. Wilhelm from the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices. The examination was made by Mary Haupert.

Must Assume Debt

The largest finding was made against the Caledonia village school district in favor of the Scott township district. A portion of the Scott township district was transferred to the Caledonia school district on Aug. 24, 1921. As a result of this transfer, the Caledonia village district became entitled to a portion of the money the Scott township district ordinarily received for operating expenses. The village also became liable for a portion of the Scott township district's debt, which it failed to assume.

The examiner holds that the Caledonia district must assume its proportion of the Scott township district's debt, which amounts to $2,421.20, and makes a finding to that effect.

The only other finding recorded is against the Columbus School Supply Co. in favor of the Marion city school district for $10. In this case, the Marion city school district paid a $10 drayage bill on a shipment made by the Columbus School Supply Co. to the local schools. The company should have paid the drayage, not the school, the examiner holds.

Illegal payments in LaRue and Agosta village school districts are also listed by the examiner. In Agosta, members of the school board since 1927 have been paying themselves an annual salary of $30 Findings were made against J. O. Everett, $90, four years' salary; John Ruder, $90, four years' salary; R. C. Dutton, $90, four years' salary; E. R. Drake, $90, three years' salary; Mr. Hale, $90, one year's salary; J. W. Imhody, $90, three years' salary.

Members of the LaRue school board made payments of $90 when the examiner holds illegal. [illegible] ordered to pay back the [illegible] of $97 to Chet Thomas, [illegible] Thomas, [illegible] Ellis, C. D. [illegible] Hughes, all [illegible] to Penn.

OPEN ATTACK ON CORN BORER

Early Maturity of Crop Sends Federal Corps Out in Four States.

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 22 — Early maturity of the sweet corn crop caused United States department of agriculture agents to go into action today at 125 roadside stations in Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Michigan, in the war against the European corn borer. The agents will inspect all vehicles on highways under state and federal quarantines.

The government forces are under command of E. C. Brewer, who is in charge of the western area headquarters here of the plant quarantine and control administration of the agricultural department.

Quarantine activities were opened two weeks earlier than usual, because of the early maturity of the crop, Brewer said. Inspections will continue for 60 to 90 days, with more than 300 inspectors halting all vehicles to make certain that the corn borer is not spread from the quarantine area. Transportation of corn on the cob is the principal item prohibited under regulations.

The largest Ohio inspection station will be at Hamilton. It will operate 24 hours each day. Smaller stations work on 16 hour shifts. The quarantine lines extend further south this year as compared with 1930.

Four hundred field scouts of the department also went into action today, seeking new infestation areas, and to carry on educational work among the farmers.

Mrs. Chapman Recovering from Injuries in Fall

The condition of Mrs. Roy Chapman who suffered a broken leg in a fall at her home at 1054 east Center street four weeks ago, is reported as improved. The thigh bone of her right leg was broken when she tripped and fell in the dining room at her home. Miss Mary K. Chapman, of Detroit who spent the last three weeks with her mother, returned to Detroit Sunday.

COURT NEWS

Sales Confirmed

Sale was confirmed and deed and distribution were ordered in common pleas court yesterday in the cases of the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. against Charles M. Walters and others, the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. against Amos H. Phelps and others, and the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. against Lucinda Walters and others.

The court also made a similar order in the action of the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. against William Gavin and others, and in this case also approved the report of the receiver and allowed the receiver $20.

All of the cases are foreclosure actions. Hayes Thompson is counsel for the loan company.

Set Up Claim

Ralph Rumar, in an answer filed in common pleas court yesterday in an action titled the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. against Rose Anna Zwicker and others, sets up an alleged lien against property involved in the suit. Rumar asserts that he obtained a judgment for that amount against Rose Anna Zwicker in a municipal court action. The law firm of Mouser, Young, Mouser & Wiant is counsel for Rumar.

Two Girls Valuable Aids in U.S.-European Parley

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 22 — Although their identities have been kept very much in the background, two attractive girls are playing a far from unimportant part in the negotiations which President Hoover has precipitated between the major world capitals in an effort to relieve Germany's economic stress.

Working quietly and efficiently in conjunction with the leaders of international diplomacy Miss Ann Shankey and Miss Myra McGrath almost daily are being called in to exercise their talents in furtherance of the all-important discussions now current.

In Service Long Time

Miss Shankey and Miss McGrath

are President Hoover's trusted personal stenographers. It is their assignment to plug in on the frequent transoceanic telephone conversations between Washington and London, Paris and Berlin and take in shorthand the full texts of all important proposals and communiques emanating from the various governments concerned. With such world figures as the President; Premier MacDonald of England, Premier Laval of France, Chancellor Bruening of Germany, and Secretaries Stimson and Mellon, they alone are sharing the full, and up-to-the-minute details of the intricate negotiations. Needless to say, they are keeping their counsel as whole-heartedly as the diplomats.

Both young women have been long in the service of Mr. Hoover. Miss Shankey has been engaged in a confidential capacity since food administration days. Miss McGrath has shared in handling the executive's most secret work dating back to his early service as secretary of commerce. They are devoted to the "chief," and uncomplainingly put in long hours at the White House, day and night.

Always on Duty

For the last month, these charming, but tight-lipped girls have alternated accompanying the President to his Rapidan camp over the week-ends. Whether it was the secretary of state or the secretary or treasury from London or Paris, Ambassador Edge from Paris or Ambassador Sackett from Berlin, reporting, one or the other was ready at the remote Virginia end of the phone with her pencil and notebook ready.

ONE TO BE CHOSEN ON REPUBLICANS' TICKET

W. C. PHILLIANS

R. E. PRETTYMAN

BERT J. SHELTON

FRANK PASCHALL

Phillians, Shelton, Paschall Photos by Wark.

This is the second of a series of articles written to introduce the 36 candidates for city officers to readers of The Star before the August primaries. A brief sketch and a photograph of each candidate will be published.

* * *

MARION Republicans must choose one of four men to head their ticket when they ballot in the August primaries. Four of the seven candidates seeking nomination as mayor are Republicans, promising an exciting primary campaign.

The four Republican candidates for the city's highest office are W. C. Phillians, R. E. Prettyman, Frank Paschall and Bert J. Shelton.

Phillians, 59, is a former council president and for 10 years was manager of the Richman Bros. Co. store here. He has been Republican committeeman in precinct E, sixth ward for years. He lives at 709 east Center street.

* * *

R. E. PRETTYMAN has an extensive political background, having been councilman at large, president of council, and previous to that justice of peace and postmaster of Agosta. He is 51, lives at 201 Orchard street and is in the insurance business. He is Republican executive committee chairman.

Frank M. Paschall, 67, of 151 south Vine street, has never held public office. He has been a resident of Marion 33 years, and has four children. He formerly operated an electric supply concern here.

Bert J. Shelton of 578 south Vine street is county treasurer. He will leave office in September. He also is a former city councilman here.

Educated Pets Highlights On Chautauqua Program

Arcadian Novelty Company Also Entertains in Delightful Way at Afternoon and Night Performances; Thursday Is Last Day.

Squeals of delight, oh's and ah's of excitement greeted Pamahasika's pets last night from both the adults and the children in the large audience at the Chautauqua. Sixty children from the Marion County home were in front seats as guests of the Kiwanis club.

The program was unusual, and educational from the point of view of training animals and birds in intricate tricks. None the less entertaining, but of a different variety, was the 45-minute program offered by the Arcadian Novelty company headed by Dorothy Dyer, which preceded the Pamahasika program of an hour and 45 minutes.

To Rescue Pledges

Thursday night'sp rogram, put on by Mardoni & Company, magician and escape artist, will close 1931 Chautauqua in Marion. There will be no afternoon program. Pledges for the 1932 season will be received tonight and Thursday night.

The Arcadian company program opened with a quartet number, "Blaze Away" and "Orpheus Overture" Affenbach, played with Miss Dyer at the piano, Bernice Bott, violinist, Lucille Miners, trombone player, and Faye Johnson, flute player. "Old Refrain," Kreisler and a medley of moonlight songs followed. Miss Dyer favored with a selection on a musical saw and followed this with Rachmaninoff's "Prelude" and its syncopated American version, "The Russian Rag" and "Volga Boatman," played on the piano accordion. Miss Dyer appeared in a Russian costume for these numbers.

In costume, "Sweethearts on Parade" was played, with trombone and violin solos and an instrumental solo by Miss Dyer. The "Parade" included sweetheart songs of Dixie, the "Gypsy Love Song," "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," "Memories" and last, the stirring "Sweetheart of the U. S. A."

Miss Johnson played a flute solo, "La Sirene," Terschak.

Pamahasika's pets were put through their tricks by George Roberts, a Chautauqua and Lyceum entertainer for years. Sleek dogs, poodle dogs, monkeys, cockatoos — beautiful white plumed specie and the lovely Australian rose specie,—gorgeously feathered parrots, beautiful doves and a great delight, "Princess Levita," the educated pony who told the audience how old she was, the number of days in a week and all sorts of amazing things. All these combined to entertain the audience.

On Stage 35 Years

Roberts kept up a running fire of low toned talk to his pets all the while the act was going on, stopping at times to tell the audience how he worked with them to get what he wanted for his show. The cockatoos on the bill had been in Chautauqua nearly 35 years.

Dorothy Dyer of Columbus, graduate of Ohio State university and a member of Scarlet Mask while she was at the university, with a trio of musicians, gave an enjoyable novelty program in the afternoon, opening wth a greeting song, "Hello, Hello, Hello," played and sung by the quartet.

Miss Dyer, pianist with a talent for playing popular music that keeps the feet beating time, and of playing beautifully, classical and semi-classical numbers, is also an accomplished piano-accordionist.

With her were Bernice Bott, violinist, Lucille Miners, trombone player and Faye Johnson, flute player and piano soloist. The four played together selections from Herbert's "The Fortune Teller," and "The Waltz You Saved for Me," after which Miss Dyer gave two readings, "The Matrimonial Storm" and "Three Ways of Teaching To Drive." Miss Bott played two violin solos, "Valse Bluette," Drigo, and "Indian Snake Dance," Burleigh.

Solo Numbers

"Edgewater Beach," Martin and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" were the solo numbers of Miss Miners, and toward the conclusion of the program Miss Johnson played a piano solo, "Juba Dance," and as an encore, a novelty number.

Miss Dyer pleased the children with a reading, of "Sleepy Time Express" to which she played a piano-accordion accompaniment. She also played two of her own compositions on the accordion, "Colonel Lindbergh's Trans-Atlantic Trip" and "Lindy's Flight with Anne Over the Matrimonial Seas."

At the conclusion of the program a costume number, "Wedding of the Dutch Dolls" and a Hansel and Gretel number were given.

Tonight will mark the appearance of two stellar numbers on the program, a lecture by Mrs. "Private" Peat of London on the subject, "Youth Marches On," to be given at 8, followed by a grand concert by the Ramos Mexican orchestra.

that EXTRA something . . .

CLICQUOT has it!

YOU know what it takes to be successful—that all-important something more that only the leaders seem to have. Extra skill or extra speed...that EXTRA something.

In Clicquot Club, it's EXTRA quality... smoother, mellower flavor... finer ingredients subtly blended by a longer, slower process. No wonder three generations have cheered it as the one fine old American ginger ale. Three different ginger ale flavors from which to choose. And SaS, that delicious confection drink.

According to advices from Berlin, German industry has not yet been hurt by the crisis over there. That's a heap sight more than may be said for the situation of American industry.

The Paris Le Matin is highly suspicious of Britain, hinting at a British desire to prevent a Franco-German agreement. It may be said for Le Matin that it is thoroughly reliable in one respect; its suspicions have never been known to be out of first-class working order.

It's hardly fair for the newspapers to agitate to the extent they have over that Lake Erie sea serpent. Why can't they pick on the regular run of rum-runners rather than center their efforts on the fellow who had the ingenuity to make an elongated raft by chaining beer kegs together, end to end?

Nicholas Papantonio, arrested twenty-two times since 1920 and first on New York City's list of "public enemies," has been sentenced to Sing Sing prison for from fifteen to thirty years. That strikes one as a mighty good beginning.

Economist Stuart Chase told a gathering recently that this country was headed "backward to a frightful calaclysm unless it adopts a national plan that will control and guide the basic industries, govern the investment of capital, and keep purchasing power in step with production." Some of these economists talk like people full of prunes.

Damages in the sum of $300 are sought in the court of common pleas up in Tiffin by a motorist who ran into the pig of a farmer with consequent injury to his car. It would be interesting to know the real speed at which the motorist was driving at the time of the accident.

Professor Lovett, of the University of Chicago, declares that our participation in the World war blocked "peace without victory." One of these days, through inadvertence, some college professor may turn out a real news item by placing responsibility for something inimical to world peace on some country other than the United States.

Because of the cancellation of the sailing dates of a large number of cabin boats, those who had bookings thereon are being given first-class bookings without extra charge, in accordance with the rules of the North Atlantic passenger conference. It's a poor wind that doesn't blow somebody good.

New York City's "committee of fourteen," a reform group, holds that vice in that city is the most brazen and worst in fifteen years. It must be awful, if the committee speaks advisedly, but even at that it very probably is no worse than that in most of the larger cities of the country since our federal lawmakers opened the way for making us moral by law.

Ohio Agriculture and Stock Raising.

While Ohio does not hold a place in the great $50,000,000,000 farming and stock-raising industry of the country so conspicuous as such states as Texas, Iowa, Illinois, California, Minnesota, Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Missouri and Wisconsin, the federal bureau of the census credits our state with having 219,296 farms with a total acreage of 21,514,059, valued, with buildings, implements and machinery, at $1,796,206,673.

Of the state's total acreage, crops were raised and harvested in 1929, the last year for which federal figures are obtainable, on 10,115,652 acres. That year, 926,976 acres of crop land were idle and there were 226,767 acres of land on which crops failed to mature or were not harvested. It may be noted that these last figures represented but 1.1 per cent. of the crop lands of the state. Pasture land that year represented, including 3,762,605 acres which were plowable, 8,037,544 acres of the total farm acreage of the state.

"The total value of farm land and buildings was $1,673,030,716," says a report just issued by the census bureau, "of which $660,820,821 represented the value of farm buildings, $355,007,787 the value of farmers' dwellings. The value of farm implements and machinery, including farmers' automobiles, was $103,175,957."

Our state ranks so high in manufacturing—we believe that it may fairly be placed fourth, if not third—that those of the state's population centers are inclined to think of Ohio as a manufacturing state. It may prove of interest to such to know that this commonwealth stands ahead of seven-eighths of her sister states in farming and stock-raising as well, New York and Pennsylvania among them.

The New Broom Sweeps Clean.

Dr. Beverly O. Skinner, new state director of education, informally places a program before the people that is immaculate and shiny. Not that there is overt criticism of the way his predecessor, Dr. John L. Clifton, ran the department of education, but Dr. Skinner is taking his bow as a public official and he needs must do something.

He will reduce shool expenditures to conform with general reductions of income and price levels.

He will promote training in art appreciation, in an attempt to prepare young people to spend their leisure time profitably. The three R's will continue to hold their place, but Dr. Skinner will add to them.

He will attempt to equalize opportunities for urban and rural school pupils. City school systems have more money to spend for teachers; consequently, they get the better teachers. Rural pupils have a right to the high-grade instruction good teachers are capable of giving.

Dr. Skinner, one gathers, is a great believer in good teaching. His new broom, he announces, is going to catch all teachers who are in the business for the money and sweep them out of their jobs. "Too many of Ohio's 40,000 teachers are teaching to obtain the financial reward that their jobs pay th , he threatens.

This suggests a rosy future for school teaching standards in Ohio, but one wonders how Dr. Skinner's new educational broom is going to separate the teachers who are working for money from those who are working for a deep interest in the educational welfare of the young. Public school teachers, like eve one else, are striving to get along in the world as comfortably and happily as possible. The fact that they are vitally interested in the income they get certainly does not mean they are not good teachers, nor does it mark them as different from other social servants.

Incidentally, one wonders what Dr. Skinner thinks about married women teachers. He is interested in quality, he says. School superintendents, also interested in quality, assert that married women usually are good teachers, yet, most married women are teaching for income. Remove them from the states school system, remove the young teachers who are trying to save money enough to get married, and the women who are making teaching their career are the numerically inadequate remainder.

Dr. Skinner's broom will have to do some fancy twists and turns if it sweeps clean without sweeping destructively to the pupils' best interests.

Dr. H. G. Southard, state director of health, has announced the dropping of twenty-one employes from his department to meet the request of the state finance director for a seven per cent. reduction in expense for the remainder of 1931. The state government must be preparing to name another patriot to a sinecure at $833 a month.

Despite the fact that fifteen per cent. or more of the available space in the office buildings of Chicago is vacant, the contract for the $12,0000,000, forty-three-story Field office building, which will be by far the largest in the city, has been let. Building in the face of a situation such as outlined has all the earmarks of 100 per cent. optimism, faith and courage.

A Chinaman's Chance.

American citizens in China are tried for criminal offenses in an American court in Shanghai. They do not trust the Chinese laws. Neither do the British. This privilege is extended in the name of extraterritoriality, a convenient term denoting immunities enjoyed by certain people from the jurisdiction of the state in which they are residing. The United States and Great Britain insist on retaining this right, though the national government of China is opposed to it.

Dr. Francis Tucker, an American medical missionary in China, fatally wounded a Chinese worker recently. He had a right to be brought to trial in the American court, but an announcement from the United States legation states that he has been arrested by the Chinese and placed in prison. The reported action is, of course, a breach of the extraterritorial treaty which the United States has with China.

It is a sort of moral obligation for Americans to get worked up about this—to show their acknowledgment that the shoe pinches when it's on the other foot. There is a demand for fussing about international obligation; much more of a demand than there was a few weeks ago when two Oklahoma deputy sheriffs killed two Mexican youths on their way home, or more than there is when an envoy gets his head bashed in by some over-zealous American enforcement officer.

What probably will happen is plain enough. There will be a diplomatic squabble, and Dr. Tucker will be turned over to the American court in Shanghai and acquitted. Probably he thought the Chinese was a burglar. But when it happens there will have to be a general pardon issued to those who gag on the thought of what usually happens to a Chinaman standing trial for murder, or any other crime, in the United States. The phrase, "a Chinaman's chance," didn't just happen. It grew out of actual circumstance.

The career of a Chicago policeman held up there as a robber is being probed. It is true that we are not familiar with the Windy City course of procedure, but it strikes us that the proper time for such a probe would have been before giving the man in question the job.

Some of these writers are too indefinite. By way of illustration, Rudyard Kipling says: "It is bold to look forward; it is wise to look backward," without tipping us off regarding which he holds the preferable course.

Senator Henrik Shipstead is quoted as having stated in an interview over in Copenhagen that conditions in the United States are worse than in most of the countries he has visited, excepting Germany. Little wonder it would be if they were considering some senatorial timber inflicted upon the country from time to time, a sample of which is offered by a senator who goes abroad and attempts to belittle the country supporting him.

NEW STRIDE FORWARD.

Endurance trials, new safety devices, transatlantic and transpacific hops, circling of the globe in less than nine days—these things foreshadow the possibilities of airplane transportation. Men are learning and doing day by day in this new field of phenomenal achievement and endeavor.

Significant news in this respect comes from New York, which tells us that in less than three weeks a new forty-passenger flying boat will initiate a trial voyage, starting from Connecticut, which will bring nearer the day of regular transatlantic air travel.

The plane will be the largest commercial airship ever built. It will go into the Caribbean service of the Pan-American Airways, which is said to be the testing ground for commercial transatlantic flights. The ship will fly between Miami and Baranquilla, Colombia, a distance of 1,350 miles, only fifty of which is over land.

A sister ship is in the making. They are built with an eye directly on Atlantic flying, which, in the opinion of experts, is not more than two years off. They are luxuriously equipped and fitted to sail the surface of the sea in any emergency.

A great stride toward the day of regular transatlantic air service! Can the ultimate successful accomplishment of this activity be doubted? Who can doubt that has observed the development of air transportation since the day of Kitty Hawk?

The marvels of air achievement have become commonplace in the popular mind, so swiftly have they accumulated through a comparatively short space of time. — Cincinnati Enquirer.

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS AN HOUR.

No less than thirty-five cents an hour may hereafter be paid to laborers working for contractors on state highway projects. It has been found that in some parts of the state the wages of laborers have been as low as eighteen and twenty cents an hour.

The state says in effect: "You must not take advantage of poverty by imposing low wages on it. You must not profit at the expense of hunger. You can get men to work at almost any price now, but you have no moral right to take the labor of men without just pay. Since some employers are not sensitive to moral duty, we must make this rule to enforce fairness."

No one has arisen in protest to say: "This is socialism. It is socialism for the state to dictate how much any private employer shall pay his workers." Indeed, the leading road contractors have agreed with the state highway department that they will observe the minimum wage rule.

The same rule should be observed voluntarily by other employers over whose relations to their workers the state has not even the jurisdiction that it has in the case of road contractors.—Columbus Citizen.

A Handicap to Health.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Within the past decade the term "focal infection" has come into common use. It is a condition of great importance. The acceptance of the idea has altered many of our other theories concerning disease.

These germs, or bacteria, or a collection of them, multiply and produce poisons at some definite location in the body. The poisons, and, in many cases, the germs themselves, enter the blood stream. They are carried to distant parts of the body, where they produce their harmful effects.

Former methods of treatment failed to relieve, because the real seat of the trouble was not known. By means of modern methods, particularly the X-ray and laboratory tests, the difficulty can be located.

A patient may complain of pain in the leg, knee or back. Though the painful part may be treated the actual cause is not removed. The focus of infection, the real foundation of disturbance, may be in the teeth, nose, tonsils, appendix, gall bladder, or somewhere else in the body.

When the source of the poison is known, and that point is cleared up, prompt relief usually follows. The teeth are the most common seat of focal infection. This is discovered only by an X-ray examination.

The tonsils are frequently the site of focal infection. In cases where the tonsils are actually diseased their removal must be considered.

The sinuses of the nose are frequently involved in chronic infections. Here, too, the X-ray plays an important role. In addition the condition of the sinuses can be determined by transillumination, the light shining through the thin tissues.

When the sinuses are diseased and harbor bacteria and pus, a slight operation may give speedy relief and cause the disappearance of the infection. The neuralgia or the pains will be heard of no more after this is done.

It should be remembered that the gall bladder, the appendix or even the intestinal tract may be the seat of focal infection. As a rule the victims show definite digestive disorders. To one skilled in this art the X-ray examination gives definite information.

Any focus of infection in the body is a serious handicap to health. It should be removed. Its removal is important, not only for the cure of the existing disease, but for the prevention of future and perhaps more serious ailments.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

E. T. Z. Q—I do not have colds but am constantly bothered with phlegm in my throat and mucus in my nose, causing difficult breathing. Are these symptoms catarrhal?

A—Yes. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

* * *

E. L. Q—Do you advise any one to drink several raw eggs daily? Will a cup or two of cocoa daily prove harmful in any way?

A—What is the purpose? Raw eggs are healthful and nutritious—taken with milk they are strengthening and nourishing. No, cocoa made with milk is most nutritious.

* * *

M. E. T. Q—What can be done for perspiring feet and what causes them to swell? Would this be caused by a kidney condition?

A—For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. If there is any reason to suspect a kidney condition have an examination so that definite advice and treatment can be given.

D. W. Q—My thirteen-year-old daughter who is five feet three inches tall weighs about 150 pounds—is well proportioned and very solid. However, her circulation is very poor. Is she growing too fast—would you advise some glandular medicine to stop her rapid growth?

A—If she is in good health her circulation will take care of itself. See your doctor for his advice.

MRS. L. G. Q—What causes a weak stomach or nausea in an otherwise seemingly healthful individual?

A—This is probably due to indigestion and nervousness. Proper attention to the diet should bring about relief. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Scientific Uncertainty.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

One of the most extraordinary discoveries of very recent years, which is continuing to attract the keenest interest among physicists, is what is known as the uncertainty principle. It is a principle which arises as a logical and inevitable consequence of the new quantum mechanics. It has numerous applications, but one or two simple ones may be mentioned here. The uncertainty principle, which is based really upon the theory of probabilities, leaves one in doubt whether light is a particle or a wave. To take another illustration, we may know the position of an electron accurately but not its velocity with accuracy, and vice versa. The more accurately we know one of these quantities, the less accurately can we know the other.

A somewhat similar state of affairs developed in the early stages of the development of the theory of relativity. Einstein contributed to science the fundamental principle that if a thing is essentially unobservable then it is not a real thing, and so we can not include it in our theories and calculations. Thus he showed that so-called "absolute time" was of this nature; and this discovery constituted a starting point for the theory of relativity. Michelson, for example, tried to lay a trap, so to speak, to catch light off its guard. By "playing dead," as children say, or by "shamming stupid," the idea was to discover the absolute velocity of the earth through the supposititious lumeniferous ether. But Nature was too clever for Michelson. It introduced a compensating effect which just balanced exactly the error Michelson devised the apparatus and made the experiment to find. The result amounted to nothing. It was just as if no experiment had been made. Nature was too sharp for Michelson.

It is a singular circumstance that the electron acts much like the light ray in the Michelson-Morley experiment. Every experiment, however ingenious, which has been devised to determine whether an electron is wave or particle has failed. The electron seems to act with intelligence pitted against man's intelligence. It can not be caught napping. The electron avoids the trap set for it every time. Thus we have what is known as the uncertainty principle.

Professor Charles G. Darwin, of the University of Edinburgh, suggests that there is a sort of analogy here with the objective world of actuality and the subjective world of sensation. We hear a note struck on the piano and recognize it as "middle C," yet it actually vibrates at the rate of 256 times a second. We hear "middle C" without associating it with anything that happens 256 times. The wave aspect may be analogous to the objective world, the particle to the subjective.

This new principle of uncertainty is at variance with that law we have always considered fundamental and unshakable, the principle of casuality. We have always believed hitherto that if we knew everything about the present, we could confidently predict the future. We are led then to the conclusion that the present, in its entirety, is definitely unknowable. According to the new principle of uncertainty, we can not say what will happen to a single electron, but we can confidently estimate the probabilities.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

Where Miami Was Located.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The location of public institutions has always been attended in Ohio by log rolling and the manifestation of local selfishness, which has in most cases cost the public as a whole a distinct loss. The selection of the site for Miami university is no exception to this general rule.

In the contract by which John C. Symmes became the purchaser of the land between the Great and Little Miami rivers in Ohio, he pledged congress that a township of thirty-six sections should be set aside as near the center of the purchase as possible for the support of academies, colleges and schools. In his early prospectus, Symmes indicated by map the location of this township, and was probably acting in good faith in making the representation.

But things did not go well with Judge Symmes in this enterprise, and there was not the demand for lands that he expected. In order to make them go in the market he found himself obliged to let customers pick the lands they preferred, and as the result he soon found out that not only was much of the township he intended to set aside for college purposes, gone to private parties, but there was not a single entire township in the purchase left that could be so used.

The selection was to be left to the judgment of the territorial governor, but Ohio had been admitted into the union before they got around to that. In 1809, the legislature provided for a commission of three to locate the institution in such eligible place in the Symmes purchase as could be found. The commission itself could not agree; one pulled out, and the selection made by the other two was held by the legislature to be improper.

The legislature thereupon fixed the location itself, selecting the present site of Miami at Oxford, which is not within the boundaries of the Symmes purchase at all. Of course, there were strenuous objections, and rival places began to wrangle for the college. Cincinnati was a strong contender, but in the end all this failed, and the young state started to build a university out of the proceeds of thirty-six sections of densely-wooded land that nobody seemed to want and the long story of Miami's development had begun.

Marion—Seen Through Local Eyes.

The following is the answer of one citizen to the question, "What Is Wrong with Marion?"—the first in the questionnaire circulated by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer to get a comprehensive insight into the community feeling regarding our home city, in the hope of arriving at a remedy for handicaps, if any, from which Marion may suffer. From day to day, answers of various citizens to the same question will be given publicity on this page.

"What is wrong with Marion?"

Nothing wrong with Marion itself. She has wonderful advantages to become a great little city, if her citizens assume the right attitude and put her there.

Farmers Fly To Get Part for Machinery Here

Two young Michigan farmers who take their agriculture seriously put modern transportation methods to work for them Sunday to save a few valuable days of harvest time.

When a piece of their farm machinery broke in the field, the men chartered an airplane to Marion where they replaced the part at the Huber Manufacturing Co. Two hours after their plane had landed on Marion Airport, they were heading back to their Michigan farm with the new part.

Had the men depended on an order to furnish them the broken part, several days would have been wasted while ripe crops grew overripe.

The name of one of the men is Lawrence Wohlers of Bronson, Mich. They came to Marion in an OX-Waco.

WEATHER PREVENTS PLAYGROUND MEETS

Activities Will Be Resumed as Soon as Conditions Permit.

There is to be no interplayground meet this week due to the weather conditions stopping the usual schedule of the grounds. As soon as permissible, the grounds will resume their activities, according to Y. M. C. A. officials.

The play ground cap emblems have been awarded to those boys making sufficient points in various tests to win the caps. A total of 300 points was required, and Richard Kemmerley, of the Willow street ground, was high in his group with a score of 400 points.

Those from Lincoln park among the older boys winning the caps were Charles Caprino, Woodrow Hartley, Harold Callahan, Anthony Caprino, Roy Stout, Robert Stout, Wallace Predmore, George Conroy, Odell Daniels, Joe Robbins, Eddie Huggins, Leonard Harbolt, Wallace Conkle, and Dale Delauder. The Lincoln younger boys' group winning emblems included Julius Chismar, Robert Davis, Ted Kohler, Walter Young, Joe Paulus, Robert Beam, Billy Evans, Ernest Massie, Guy Lewis, Leonard Wooley, Robert Wooley and Verno Reams.

Several boys who did not receive emblems at this time are expected to earn them in the next few days.

SEA SERPENT STORY NO HOAX AFTER ALL

18-Foot Snake Caught at Sandusky May Have Escaped Here.

The unsuccessful efforts of Marion men to capture a huge python which escaped from its box in an express car near Ashland several weeks ago were recalled by Marionites today when it was reported by the Associated Press that the "sea serpent" sought in Lake Erie at Sandusky had been captured by two Cincinnatians.

An 18-foot snake caught at Sandusky yesterday was held in captivity today by its finders, Frank Bagentose and Clifford Wilson. They said the snake came to the surface of the bay near their row boat and startled them nearly speechless.

To Travel Again

Wilson hit it with an oar. Then they hauled it into their boat, took it ashore and placed it in a box. They said they were going to take it to Cincinnati today.

The snake which resisted the efforts of Marionites to replace it in its cage in the express car terrified an express clerk when he discovered the snake free in the car near Ashland, several weeks ago. He pulled the emergency cord and hung outside the car until the train was stopped. The door was closed while the train continued to Marion where an effort was made to capture it.

The terrified clerk thought he saw two pythons, but a Chicago snake handler who got control of the snake at Chicago, could find only one. Imaginative persons today suspected the other snake escaped from the car, possibly near Marion, and worked its way to Sandusky.

Another possible origin for the snake was suggested today when it was recalled that two boa constrictors escaped or were stolen from the zoo at Toledo several months ago.

This Snake Is Real

"It is not a native of this section," he said, "nor of any place within several thousand miles."

Several theories were offered how such a snake might have reached Sandusky bay. It was suggested the snake might have escaped from a zoo or circus.

In the last few days several Sanduskians had reported seeing a "sea serpent" in the lake, but until the 18-foot snake was found, their friends believed they were joking, and today many persons continued to suspect someone was perpetrating a hoax.

There was no denying the snake however. More than 2,000 persons gathered around a public garage here for several hours last night, where the boxed-in snake was kept by its finders. Later, the box was opened to allow the museum curator to see inside.

Scioto County Officials Face Grand Jury Probe

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 22—A grand jury investigation was started here today of alleged irregularities in the offices of the Scioto county sheriff and auditor and of the Portsmouth municipal court clerk.

Preliminary investigations by Prosecutor Cameron Meacham were followed by the resignations of Sheriff Maurice J. Caldwell and Auditor W. L. Ketter within the past four days. Marguerite Clarke Tidd resigned as municipal court clerk several months ago.

FIVE-STORY BREWERY SEIZED IN NEW YORK

Dry Agents Hammer Down Doors of Plant; Customer List Taken.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 22—Federal prohibition agents today were in possession of the five story Phoenix brewery, which they raided last night under the personal supervision of Administration Andrew McCampbell.

More than 30 agents, armed with bars, sledge hammers and battering rams, descended on the plant, at Tenth avenue and Twenty-fifth street, which they value at $1,000,000, and forced their way in after a half-hour's pounding on various doors and brick walls.

Fifty employes escaped while the agents were entering. Four men remained behind to submit to arrest. The brewery was described by the raiders as the most complete and modern in this area.

There were thousands of barrels neatly stacked. Well oiled and polished machinery, automatic fillers and refrigerating machinery.

In an outer office, agents found a complete bookkeeping system with a ledger for each borough in New York City. These books, containing customers' lists, were seized for examination.

'Shortest Name' Race Ends As A.A Lists Claim

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 22—A. A. of Chicago today finished what J. Ur of Torrington, Conn., recently started—claim to the world's shortest name.

Mr. Ur's claim to fame followed the death last Monday of H. P. Re of Coldwater, Mich. The shortest name distinction was claimed for him by his friends, but Mr. Ur contended he had but one initial and thus was the real champion.

C. Ek and J. Ek, brothers of Duluth, promptly entered the lists as co-champions. Mrs. V. Ek, not to be outdone, claimed not only the women's title but the mixed doubles championship. A former Duluth policeman said his name was C. Sy.

Then Fairmount, Minn., entered E. Py, farmer; Clinton, Ia., put forward C. Au, J. Au and W. Au, triple threats; Indiana offered Ed Py, inmate of Newcastle jail and Indianapolis made a poor try with Fix Ax.

Mr. A, of 5931 Elston avenue, Chicago, quietly waited on the sidelines until just before the entries closed. His name really is Aaron A, but he likes the distinctiveness of A. A., the world's shortest name, the name that leads all others in the Chicago telephone directory, alphabetically as well as longitudinally.

CRAWFORD CO. PROBE WILL BE REOPENED

Sensational Developments Hinted in Bootleg "Protection Racket."

Woodruff's personal participation in the meeting convinced followers of the case that officials believed they were confronted with an extraordinary situation.

Crawford county officials joined in the reopened investigation, it understood. Crawford County Prosecutor J. D. Sears was reported to have talked to Commissioner Sears over long distance telephone today.

Today's parley was called following Mathew's return from Bucyrus to conduct a personal inquiry. He went there primarily to investigate a rumor that bogus prohibition inspectors abducted P. O. Wilhelm, Crestline gasoline station operator, after Wilhelm refused to pay them $200 demanded for protection.

Operators of several "beer joints" were threatened with arrest unless they paid for protection, it was reported. The bogus inspectors were said to have displayed a federal warrant.

Whether officials would find it necessary to send Mathews back to Crawford county to requestion persons with whom he talked yesterday could not be learned.

CROSSING TOLL MOUNTS

By International News Service

LONDON, O., July 21—A hazardous crossing on U. S. Highway 42 here had cost two more lives today with the death of Mrs. Carrie Jones, 40, and her son, Adrian, of Akron, when their automobile was struck by a Big Four freight train. Six persons have been killed at the crossing in the last seven weeks.

TEST RADIO BEACONS

Perhaps our philanthropists, judges and lawmakers could invent some better prison for young people than one in which they play baseball for exercise, go to moving pictures for amusement and take lessons in crime from older criminals for their education.

PRESIDENT HINDENBURG'S appeal to President Hoover, now made public, convinces any doubter that the President's prompt action was necessary and timely, and that Germany's financial death was not far away.

It is said that the Prince Gautama, moved by the sight of a beggar's body rotting beside the path, was turned to serious thought, and the result was the Buddhist religion.

BOY SCOUTS GIVEN SWIMMING AWARDS

The last official act of the first period of scout Camp John A Owens took place yesterday noon in the dining lodge when a large group of the campers received American Red Cross swimming awards in recognition of their advancement in swimming while at camp.

Those receiving the "swimmers buttons" were Richard Crow, Robert Cass, Dwight Carhart, Jerome Brown, Howard Fogle, Thomas Showers, Harold Cook, Clarence Tuller, William Mitzger, Bud Sheckler, Jack Dostal and Richard Eikenbary. Beginners buttons were awarded to Robert Verberg, Rupert Brown, George Crosinger, Hubert Shelton, Ross Aiken, William Hise, Frank Gegenheimer Jr., Russell Hardy, Robert Zollar, Joseph Beard, Clark Wideman, Donald Garver and Karl Bechtle. The presentation was made by Edward McComb a representative of the Red Cross and waterfront director at the camp.

The second period, which starts Thursday, will see Paul W. Goss, Red Cross representative, at camp Thursday morning to make an inspection of the swimming facilities and give special instruction in life saving and swimming.

GALION GIRL DIES OF ACUTE ILLNESS

Miss Mae L. Burtnell Stricken While Playing Golf at Shelby.

Special to The Star

GALION, July 22—Miss Mae Leona Burtnell, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. C. Burtnell residing five miles east of here died last night at 10:45, a few minutes after she was stricken with acute indigestion. Her death occurred at the miniature golf course at Shelby where she had gone with some friends, after visiting another friend in the Shelby hospital.

A physician was called when Miss Burtnell became suddenly ill and fainted. She died before she could be removed from the grounds.

Surviving are the parents, one sister Mrs. Sarah Perez of Tarrytown, N. Y., two brothers James, of Washington, D. C., and Frank, of South Lancaster, Mass., and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Watt residing east of here.

Miss Burtnell was born Dec. 23 1905, and attended the Galion High school. She resided at the Lewis Bletz home in Mansfield where she was employed.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Snyder funeral home and interment will be in the Corwin cemetery east of here. Miss Burtnell was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist church.

SUGGESTS WAR

Chinese General Would Unite Forces for Conflict with Japan.

HONGKONG, July 22—The insurgent Canton government today announced receipt of a telegram from Chang Hsueh-Liang, governor of Manchuria, in behalf of Chiang-Kai-Shek, president of the Nationalist government, in which the latter conditionally offered to resign and suggested that all China unite in declaring war upon Japan.

The telegram assertedly proposed in behalf of Chiang that all provinces in China contribute toward sending 500,000 troops to the Korean border as a military operation against Japan. Since the Canton government was represented as not approving the war proposal, the telegram as yet has not been answered.

HOLD MAN HERE ON CHECK CHARGE

Police Investigate Activities of Newport Ky., Resident.

William Doyle, 50, of Newport, Ky., is being held at police headquarters on an investigation charge while police officials are checking charges that he made several attempts in the last few days to pass questionable checks here.

Doyle was arrested at a West Side rooming house late last night after complaints had been made to the police of his alleged efforts to dispose of a number of checks. Checks made out in the name of the Marion Lumber Co. were found in his possession when searched at police headquarters. So far as had been learned by the police today, Doyle had not succeeded in passing any of the checks, however.

A unique method of attempting to dispose of the checks was made by Doyle in his unsuccessful efforts, according to information given the police. Visiting five or six places where rooms or apartments were advertised for rent, he would offer in payment as a deposit a check. The check was always greater than the amount of the deposit.

Southern Vets Reject Bid to Lincoln

By The Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July Citing modern studies of Abraham Lincoln to confirm a wide southern opinion of him in the war era, the United Confederate veterans decline to participate in scheduled celebration at Hodgenville, Ky., July 5 and 6.

In reply to an invitation from Governor Flem D. Sampson of Kentucky, to join the Union veterans in the event, Commander-in-Chief A. DeSaussure of the grey-clad survivors, said that "of all the characters before the world, Mr. Lincoln is easily among those whom I would least wish my children, my children and great grandchildren to copy or emulate."

Chamber of Commerce Head Addresses Rotary

The purpose and aim of the chamber of commerce and what it can accomplish only by having the cooperation of all citizens, was the theme of a talk given by Ralph Brown, executive vice president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at the Hotel Harding yesterday. Plans were also made at the luncheon for a picnic to be held at the Boy Scout camp next month.

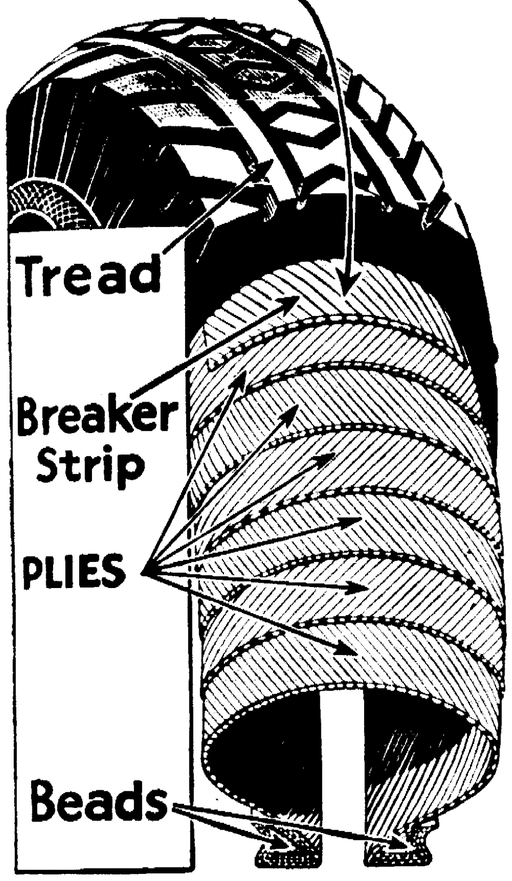
ANY TIRE manufacturer or dealer who tells you a "breaker strip" is a "ply"—or that tire performance depends on weight—deceives you.

BEWARE THE MAN WHO TELLS YOU THIS IS A PLY . . . . . .



It is NOT A PLY, it is a breaker strip! The National Better Business Bureau defines a "ply" as follows—

> "A ply is one of a number of layers of rubberized cotton fabric, either cord or square woven, extending from bead to bead, and forming the body of the tire."

Four or six plies form the carcass or the body of the tire. If the fabric does NOT extend entirely around the tire from BEAD TO BEAD, IT IS NOT A PLY. The illustration points out the difference between a ply and a breaker strip. It also points out the "beads."

Certain manufacturers and dealers, jealous of Ward's commanding position in the tire industry, have made misleading statements about Ward's tires. They have published and displayed misleading charts—they have shown sections of obsolete tires—they compare their "second line" tires with our "first line" tires—and now in advertising and selling talks, "breaker strips" are being called "plys." These misleading statements, however, are cleverly worded and the breaker strip is called "a ply under the tread." No twisting of words, however, can turn a BREAKER STRIP into a PLY. Every tire manufacturer and dealer knows it, AND WE BELIEVE THE CUSTOMER, TOO, IS ENTITLED TO KNOW THE FACTS.

BEWARE THE MAN WHO SAYS WEIGHT DENOTES SUPERIORITY

Many of our readers are familiar with the advertising which is being published by a certain large tire manufacturer* and his dealers in which his tires are compared to an unidentified mail order tire. Weight has been given prominence as one of the items of comparison. Montgomery Ward & Co. maintains that weight is not an indication of tire quality.

We recently purchased five of this manufacturer's "first line" tires and five of his "second line" tires. His "first line" tire is more expensive than his "second line" tire. These tires were carefully weighed by Dr. Ellery H. Harvey and the results are shown in the statement at the right. Note that the average weight of this manufacturer's "second line" tire is one pound five ounces heavier than the average weight of his "first line" tire. If weight denotes superiority, why is his less expensive tire heavier than his more expensive tire? Note also the variation in weights in tires of the same quality. Surely this should convince any unbiased person how ridiculous it is to consider weight as an indication of tire quality. Again we say, we believe the customer is entitled to know the facts.

* The name of this manufacturer and the tires referred to will be given to any applicants on request.

On June 20, 1931, I weighed five "_____" "first line" tires on a tested Howe scale. Immediately after on the same scale I weighed five "_____" 4-ply "second line" tires. All ten tires were size 6.50-21. They weighed as follows:

	Manufacturer's "second line" tire	Manufacturer's "first line" tire
	17 lbs. 8 oz.	16 lbs. 5 oz.
	17 lbs. 9 oz.	16 lbs. 1 oz.
	17 lbs. 6 oz.	16 lbs. 7 oz.
	17 lbs. 7 oz.	16 lbs. 3 oz.
	17 lbs. 9 oz.	16 lbs. 2 oz.
Avg. wt. per tire	17 lbs. 8 oz.	16 lbs. 3 oz.
Variation between lightest and heaviest tire	5 oz.	6 oz.

Ward's Laboratory Chief

The* RIVERSIDE *is our first quality tire. It is made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. It is built to one of the most stringent sets of specifications in the tire industry. It has been sold by Ward's for 19 years. Millions are in use today. Riversides are backed by a guarantee without limit as to time or mileage. Other famous nationally advertised tires that are equal to Riversides are much higher priced than Riversides.

The table at the right gives you the sizes for size price comparison. Having studied the price comparison with other makes, the only question for you to ask is: "Are Riverside tires really as good as these other tires with which they are compared?" Well, Montgomery Ward & Co. is one of the largest and oldest merchandise institutions in the world. It is the originator of the "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back" guarantee. It depends for its business not only on tires but also on some 40,000 other items of merchandise which it sells to you. Certainly it is reasonable to believe that Ward's is maintaining the truth in making these statements.

LOCAL MERCHANTS AT MANSFIELD MEETING

District No. 10 of Ohio Association Holds Session at Hotel.

A number of local merchants representing the furniture, clothing, shoe and dry goods business, were in Mansfield yesterday where they attended a meeting of district No. 10 of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

The meeting was held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel and the afternoon program was made up of a round table discussion of problems confronting the retail merchants. A dinner held at 6 p. m. was followed by talks by C. E. Dittmer of Columbus, executive secretary and by Frank Stockdale, retail efficiency expert.

The district includes Wyandot, Crawford, Richland, Ashland, Marion, Morrow, Knox and Delaware counties.

BACK TO HOME

Earl Zimmer, 15, Returned to Lancaster for Parole Violation.

Earl Zimmer, 15, a ward of the county juvenile court, was returned to the Boys' Industrial home at Lancaster yesterday by Probation Officer V. H. Aller. He was taken from Cincinnati where he was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of giving questionable checks. The boy was released recently from Lancaster on probation.

Zimmer who was arrested at the request of local police, was said by the Cincinnati police to have been the youngest person ever arrested in that city on check charges. According to police here, the boy gave a number of questionable checks to merchants in Marysville.

When scarcely more than 12 years old Zimmer, seized with an attack of wanderlust, went to Texas where he worked on a ranch for some time and later was taken in by a family in a Texas village who notified authorities here. He was sent to the Lancaster institution by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast last year when he violated his probation.

Police-Firemen Win from Modern Woodmen

The Police-Firemen recreational ball team added another victory to their list last night when they defeated the Modern Woodmen team by a score of 11 to 9. The game was played on the Central Junior High school diamond and was featured by hard playing by both teams. Batteries were Pine and Riley for the Woodmen and Paul Sifritt and H. Monnett for the city team. The Police-Firemen will play their next game Monday night when they meet the Oakland Sunday School team and on July 31 they will play the Silk Mill team on the Silk Mill diamond.

PLAN MOVE TO BRING RELIEF

Public Officials and Welfare Workers Discuss Needs of City for Needy.

A movement to provide for the welfare needs of Marion and Marion county for the ensuing winter, in which the city, county, township and the Family Welfare society are cooperating, was set under way last night in a meeting at the Y. M. C. A.

Plan Next Meeting

The only definite action resulting from the meeting was to plan a meeting of a committee made up of city, county, township and Welfare society officials with the Ohio tax commission within the next 10 days to study thoroughly the new tax laws enacted this year, and at the same time to make estimates on how much revenue the new laws will produce here. Money from taxation, it appeared last night, will necessarily be the chief source of relief revenue for the winter.

After this analysis of estimated tax money sources has been made, officials and representatives of the Family Welfare society will again meet and attempt to plan a satisfactory program to meet the needs of the poor this winter.

The city, after certain bonds have been retired this year, may be in position to issue emergency relief bonds for several thousand dollars to augment available welfare funds, it was brought out in the discussion. These bonds might be issued under the Pringle-Roberts bill to provide money for the early part of the winter. No funds raised under this bill can be spent after Jan. 1.

County at Limit

The county already has issued $43,000 worth of relief bonds under this bill, and will be unable to obtain any further money from that source.

While both the county and city are certain to be hard pressed for welfare money next winter, Marion township will be able to care for its poor without an emergency step, the trustees said last night.

City, county township officials, members of the Family Welfare Society and others interested in the city's public welfare work attended last night's meeting. Frank D. Glosser, chairman of the city and county aid committee of the Family Welfare Society, presided.

A. J. Crouse, clerk of the Ohio tax commission, attended last night's meeting to explain the Pringle-Roberts bill and to discuss the welfare problem with officials.

First Aid Classes Open Tonight at Y

Classes in first aid, sponsored by the American Red Cross, are to begin tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m., it was announced today. The classes are open to anyone interested in this form of instruction. Paul W. Goss, the Red Cross life saving field representative from Washington, D. C., who has been in Marion for several days, will be present at the first class tonight to aid in the program.

The course, which includes 10 lessons, will give instructions in methods of treating poisoning, burning and accidents of every description. There is no charge for the lessons, except a text-book which is of small cost.

Tests of rubber street paving in London have shown a reducton of 40 per cent in the vibration of adjacent buildings.

LEAKING GASOLINE VALVE STARTS FIRE

Wiant House East of City Damaged by Blaze in Basement.

A leaking valve on a gasoline compression tank was responsible for a small fire at the home of E. C. Prinsen, manager of the Palace theater, at his home on Harding Highway E. late yesterday afternoon.

The family was absent from home at the time and the fire was discovered by neighbors when they saw smoke pouring from the windows. Firemen from the No. 2 station who responded to the call, found a quantity of clothing burning in the basement and the house filled with smoke. The fire was extinguished before spreading to the woodwork of the basement.

An investigation by firemen showed a leaky valve above a gasoline compression tank and it is believed that gasoline sprayed about the basement caught fire from a spark when an automatic motor started.

The house is owned by Wendel Wiant. An estmiate of the loss could not be obtained today as Wiant is out of the city.

Grange Names Group To Arrange for Picnic

C. W. Setter, L. H. McGhee and W. T. Mack were appointed a committee to make arrangements for a Grange picnic last night at the meeting of Progressive Grange No. 2445 held at the grange hall southeast of Marion. The picnic is to be held in the near future.

Plans were made to include motion pictures in the literary program of the grange and a vote of thanks was given to the committee that was in charge of the installation of electric lights in the hall, an improvement which was recently made. Plans were also decided upon to start a beautification program on the lawn of the grange hall.

The next meeting of the grange will be held Aug. 4 at the hall.

Man Robbed When Prowlers Enter Home

Frank Caprino of 272 Senate street reported to the police this morning that while he was seated in a room at his home at 11:30 last night, two Negroes, one short and the other tall and both poorly dressed, suddenly appeared in the room and at the point of a revolver robbed him of $8 and his annual pass on the Erie.

After relieving him of the money and the pass, the Negroes left threatening to return and kill him if he made any disturbance. Too frightened to make any outcry, Caprino waited until this morning to report the robbery to the police.

The time loss for the county was given as 742 days.

"The record of the industries of Ohio for the first six months of 1931," said Supt. Thomas P. Kearns of the division of safety and hygiene, "shows an improvement in both accident frequency and severity. In 1930, the average monthly record of accidents was 17,729, fatalities 105 and time loss 897,843 days. For the first half of 1931, the average monthly record of accidents was 13,677, fatalities 96 and time loss 760,107. Even taking into consideration the probability of decreased payroll exposure in the first half of this year, as compared with the average monthly record of 1930, the reductions in both accident frequency and severity are so pronounced as to leave no room for doubt as to the efficacy of safety efforts in Ohio industries thus far this year. If the same average improvement were to be maintained for the remaining half of the year, 1931 would see 48,626 fewer accidents, 102 less fatalities and 1,012,829 days less time loss than in 1930. This would certainly make safety effort in industry worth while."

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, July 23

THIS day is likely to stress social, domestic, artistic and romantic associations and aims rather than business interests, according to the predominant positions of Venus and Jupiter by lunar and solar aspects. These private concerns offer better prospects for progress and pleasure, with possible aids or recognition from elderly persons or institutions. But be careful with all writings, lest there be room for misconstruction, collusion or slander.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of great social, domestic, artistic or affectional activities, although there may be returns of fidelity and diligence from elders or old institutions. Be careful with all writings and preclude openings for misrepresentation, fraud, ill-repute or conspiracy. A child born on this day should be splendidly endowed for social and artistic success and personal popularity and prestige, although it may have some proclivities toward expediency and crafty methods, unless these be weeded out in youth

Psycho-Analysis Plan Adopted for Unruly Students at Defiance

By International News Service

DEFIANCE, O., July 22—Modern scientific principles of psychoanalysis will be applied to problems of campus conduct at the Defiance college under the new administration of Dr. W. Vernon Lytle.

No longer will a set of campus rules be set up for enforcement under the supervision of a dean of men and dean of women. The standard of dormitory conduct, for instance, will be what society would ordinarily expect of a young man or woman living in his own home or as the guest of a friend.

Those students who fail to measure up to the normal standards will find themselves the subject of a study by a commitee of campus experts: the professors of psychology, sociology and biology, with the assistance of a physician called in when needed.

Whether freshman or senior, the student who has broken a door, pilfered a light bulb or forgotten the proprieties of speech or conduct in more serious ways, will find himself facing a laboratory study by the experts to discover the hidden cause of his inability to be normal.

Once the cause is discovered, a remedy will be sought. In some cases the trouble may be physical, in others mental, in others the result of training and environment. Stipulated forms of punishment will give way to application of a procedure recommended by experts

The very fact that a committee will be awaiting every student who is found to be a violator of one of the campus rules will discourage irregular conduct, Dr. Lytle thinks. He says he believes his plan will cut down the number of college pranksters.

RAINBOW STOPS TRAINS

By International News Service.

NIANTIC, Conn.—Even a pair of express trains thundering along the shore of Long Island Sound here, recently, faltered at the unusual sight of a double rainbow, with ends rising from the inner and outer harbors here, andd spanning, it seemed, the whole width of the Sound. The display is said never to have been noted here before and lasted for half an hour. The trains bound to and from Boston slowed down as passengers crowded to the windows and gazed in awe.

HEAR REQUEST

Electric Company Presents Petition at Bucyrus Council Session.

BUCYRUS, July 22—An application by the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Interurban company for permission to reduce the number of daily round trips between Marion and Bucyrus from seven to four was read before the city council Tuesday night.

City Solicitor Charles F. Schaber was authorized by council to appear at a hearing before the state utilities commission July 29, requesting that the company arrange their schedule in a manner that cars may make a through trip from Bucyrus to Columbus with delay at Marion. No objection will be offered by the city to the removal of the three cars.

PRESENTS BUDGET

Bucyrus Council Gets Figures on City's Expenses.

BUCYRUS, July 22—It will require $135,746 93 to operate the city of Bucyrus during the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1, 1932, or just $753.07 less than it is costing this year, according to estimates contained in the 1932 budget as presented to the city council Tuesday night by City Auditor Constance Keller.

Copies of the budget are now open for public inspection at the city building and a public hearing will be held at the council chamber prior to its adoption at the next meeting of council Aug. 4.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Heartened by News That Baby Faith Is Out of Danger.

I WENT through a white-hot second or two while Katherine was delivering her ultimatum in which it seemed to me that I must shriek out at her all the pentup venom distilled by my unreasoning jealousy of her care of my baby. Then, mercifully, sanity came to me, and I realized not only how perfectly justified Katherine was in her dictum, but I think I also comprehended the enormity of my own attitude towards her. Thankful for the only redeeming thing of the whole miserable business—that I had been able to keep from any utterance which would lead Katherine to guess my feeling—I knew that her ultimatum was uttered only to quell my hysteria and that she had no inkling of my real feeling—I pulled myself back to composure, with a mighty effort, and capitulated humbly.

"Forgive me," I pleaded. "Of course, I shall do whatever you direct. But" — stubbornly—"I must know what the doctor says before I go to sleep."

"I'm a stern nurse," Katherine with with a smile touching the corners of her mouth, "but I'm not a medieval wielder of the thumbscrew and the rack. If you left here before the doctor delivered his verdict, you'd lie awake for hours and likely necessitate calling in another nurse. No, sit down there and possess your soul in what patience you can until the doctor arrives. There's nothing to do for the baby now save to let her rest. Lillian will run errands for me. I'll send Katie to bed. She can get in a couple of hours' sleep before she has to get breakfast."

"She's been up all night, hasn't she?" I asked, solicitude for my little maid pushing its way to the front of my brain.

"Yes," Katherine answered, with a sardonic note in her voice, "but I hope you are not going to suggest that I keep her in bed today."

The Doctor Arrives

"Perhaps not all day," I answered, "but if I can get hold of Mrs. Ticer early enough she'll come over and get breakfast and see to the clearing up and Katie can sleep till noon."

"That's all right with me," Katherine replied promptly, "as long as you do not attend to any of the details of getting Mrs. Ticer here."

"I'll attend to that," Lillian promised. "You can depend on me, Madge. I'll get hold of Mrs. Ticer as soon as she's awake. Ah!" she lifted her head as the sound of a racing motor came into the yard, "I imagine the doctor is here."

"Will you get him up here as quickly and quietly as possible?" Katherine asked. "I don't want anybody else wakened if I can help it."

I knew that she was visualizing the arrival on the scene of Dicky, his mother and any number of [illegible] up to the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Neither Katherine nor I spoke until she returned with Dr. Quigley following close after her.

We were fortunate in getting hold of him, I know, for he is seldom at home. He holds high rank as a diagnostician in New York City and is only available to residents of the east end of the island during the weeks he spends in his summer home.

His Verdict

With fingers dug into my palms, I watched him cross the room and bend over my sleeping baby.

Lillian stepped back a pace and her arm went around me with firm tenderness while her facile fingers undid my clenched hands and held them firmly. As always, the mere touch of her hand heartened me, and I waited in silence while Dr. Quigley made a quick yet thorough examination of the baby.

When he turned and faced Katherine, I felt as if I dared not breathe until I heard his verdict. An eternity seemed to unroll itself before me while he questioned Katherine concerning the symptoms of illness which Faith had shown before the convulsion. When she had finished her recital he turned again to the baby now wailing fretfully at having been disturbed and touched the soft skin of her face appraisingly:

"I don't find any condition here that would warrant the expectation of another seizure," he said at last, "but she has a temperature, and until that is normal, you must watch her carefully. Keep her quiet, starve her practically for twenty-four hours—only the minimum of nourishment—let her have plenty of water of the right temperature and give her one of these every two hours."

He held out some tiny tablets to Katherine.

"They are practically tasteless," he said, "thoroughly dissolved in water you will have no difficulty in getting them down. I will look in again before noon, and, of course, teelphone me at once if you think there is any need for me."

He shot a swift searching glance at Lillian and me, then spoke authoritatively:

"Mrs. Graham, yo uare in no condition to be in the room. No nurse can do justice to the care of a child-patient with a nervous mother on her hands. Besides, you are very likely to have a complete nervous collapse if you stay here.

"Mrs. Underwood, will you please take her to her room and put her to bed?"

SYNOPSIS

Disguised as a Turkish maiden, Juanita Basara sells cigarettes in Divitt's gambling parlors, where she is virtually a prisoner. His threat to report her as a stowaway on the ship where Umberto, Divitt's hireling, has found her, is effective. Conchita seems a sympathetic servant, as does her son, Gabreau, who protects her from Umberto's unwelcome advances. Divitt and his wife Molly, are not unkind to the lovely newcomer, who has aroused the interest of the socially elect Kirk Stanard and his roulette-loving grandmother, Mrs. Belaise. Adrian Fouche tells them that his friend, Eric Ledbetter, who speaks Turkish, has promised to lift the girl's veil. Eagerly they plan a visit to the rendezvous, inducing their guest, one Senor Basara, of Mexico City, to join them.

* * *

Enter Senor Basara

JUANITA was dressing when Garbeau knocked softly on her door. It was the signal for her to descend to the parlors, but it did not disturb her. Not since the night Umberto and Gabreau had fought in her room had any fear come to her. In the week that had passed since then Umberto had been helpless in bed with what had seemed at first a broken neck. Gabreaus hands, however, had stopped just this side of murder, and Umberto would be about the place again.

Juanita braided the pearls in her hair and went over to the window, for Gabreau, having knocked, stopped there as if to speak with her. The window was open now. Juanita no longer sealed herself in during these hot days and nights.

Gabreau's red goblin suite fitted him like his own skin. The cut from Umberto's knife, healing on his cheek, gave to his face a look half ludicrous, half tragic.

He unrolled a paper in his hand—a picture of the Madonna he had found somewhere. A chromo, highly colored, yet an appealing face. Even Juanita could not fail to observe its resemblance to her own. She was silent, meeting Gabreau's worshiping eyes. "Pierre down street is gon' frame it for me," he said.

After a pause Juanita asked the time.

"It is 9 o'clock. Lots of people is come already. Adrian Fouche and the old lady what git excited and her son." His eyes narrowed. "Shall I keel Adrian Fouche?"

"No, Gabreau. The men don't worry me."

"Eef dey do—" Gabreau's eyes said the rest. "Umberto git up tonight. Umberto will not worry you, no."

Juanita watched Gabreau go down the stair. It was true. Umberto would not worry her, for Umberto feared Divitt as well as Gabreau. Even Gabreau need not fear Umberto's stab in the back; because of that Umberto would never have come into her room, had she not opened her door to him. Molly had called next evening, bringing some clothes for her.

"It's no use, honey," Molly had told her while she lay recovering from the hardest 14 hours' sleep she had ever known. "Divitt and I know. Yuo thought Umberto was Gabreau and let him in. Course Umberto didn't know you thought that. Does it surprise you I know it? Why, Umberto saw you try the gate. Then that night in the parlors when you saw Gabreau you went to him like a shot. And what he was sayin' to you wa.n't about the cigarets.

"Gabreau would set fire to the French quarter if you told him to. But what would happen to him if he let you loose to get us in trouble?"

The day before Juanita would have interrupted to swear she would tell nothing if they would let her go. Now she lay looking at Molly, caring not at all.

"What would happen to Gabreau would be pretty bad, for Divitt will stand mighty near anything but treachery. That gate you tried to get out by opens on the patio of the Tijon hotel. Divitt was in the lobby then.

"I never tried to get away, but when I first come was lots goin' on I didn't like. I figured—if I wasn't doin' the things how did they concern me? You're doin' nothin wrong here, and no harm's goin' to come to you. You've got your reasons to hide, and you're hid, long as you play square."

Juanita had "played square" all week. Her meals were served in her room on a little marble-topped, rosewood table Molly had picked up at Pierre's. Conchita seemed to find joy in concocting new dishes for Juanita.

If she was a prisoner, no one could have been kinder than her keepers. Molly brought her books and stamped linen with bright thread. But the books had remained unread, and the embroidery had lain in her lap, while she looked into the patio, seeing nothing unless in memory of dreams.

Once she had begun a letter, using the fly-leaf of a book, but had halted. How would she mail a letter? Not through Gabreau. Slip it to some one as she moved among the tables? Devitt would see. There was no move she might make that some one would not see.

"Dear Pedro," she had written "Don't worry about me. . . ."

And then she had torn the letter into bits, burning them in the great pewter wash basin, and had sat staring into the patio.

Yes, she was hidden—safe and sound, as Molly had said. Now that she had stopped shaking at her bars, she relaxed in the security they gave. Kind keepers, a pleasant prison. Her open window let in an oleander-scented coolness. There was a languor in the air, a balm that she seem to lie upon like a quiet breast.

All day in her room, and then at night among the players. At first it had seemed incredible that this scarf beneath her eyes could be a disguise. Surely any one who had ever known her would know her again, meeting her eyes. Yet the faces were unfamiliar.

Often the glances and the words they gave were insults, yet who should care? These men could not reach her. Divitt stood in the way. Gabreau And now—now they seldom spoke to her at all, believing she was Turkish. Molly had told only one person that the mysterious lady had escaped from a harem in Istambul—yet how it had got about' The canard was shutting her in as securely as the walls.

Music was coming from the Tijon dining room as Juanita crossed the patio. She took the tray and began her pacing among the tables.

Some one was beckoning from the roulette table. Adrian Fouche. With him was the old lady who came so often and behind the old lady's chair the tall man with the kind eyes—the man whose glance Juanita remembered had steadied her nerves that first night.

Others sat around the roulette wheel, but they seemed more a part of the crowd than the two who came with Adrian. The old lady was a figure Juanita found herself watching every night—happy when she won, sad when she lost, because the old lady herself followed the flying wheel with such intensity, the tall man beside her saying words of encouragement when she had guessed wrong nodding congratulations when she won.

Her bets were never large, and she usually left early, sometimes against her will, uttering little protests. But the tall man was adamant at these times folding her wraps about her and guiding her among the tables, Divitt moving before them as if it were the exit of a queen dowager. Juanita had wondered if they would be there tonight, and now she observed a third member of their party, a man with drooping ironic mouth and lazy eyes. He and Adrian were watching her as she went toward their table

The new man rose from his chair at her arrival.

"Not now," Adrian said to him. "Wait till the senor comes."

Juanita held out the tray. The man smiled at her, bowing.

"Akshanamiar hayer, Hanum," he remarked.

"I said wait till the senor comes," Adrian repeated angrily.

"Can't I even tell the lady 'good evening?'" inquired the man, and smiling again at Juanita, "Hanum effend," he said, "Arkadasin sizi Cok beyenigor, zan dersem bende sizi seve bilirdim." He returned to Adrian who had listened with anxiety. "I merely informed the lady that my friend likes her very much but I think I could like her myself."

Juanita smiled, extended the cigaret tray. Divitt had taken Gabreau's place behind the roulette wheel. Juanita knew that he missed nothing.

"The senor has come," Adrian remarked, and Juanita glaced toward the door. A dark, portly man was entering, a man with a fleece carved between thick black brows.

Juanita, staring, leaned against the table. Then as he came toward them, turned as if to leave.

RESULTS YESTERDAY

St. Mary's 3, Calvary 2.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

Sports Editor, The Star

Some time back, quite some time in fact, there was a song written entitled "Don't Mind the Rain." The line must have appealed to the green shirted Irish pupils of St. Mary's church for they seem to have adopted it as a theme to play for the recreation baseball game just for the use of it the Irish team is today sharing top place in the No. 1 Sunday school softball league with Calvary Evangelical Sunday school champions of the circuit in

Looking for Pennant

At the start of this season the fans, managers, players and all of the fellow followers foresaw for the team a possible pennant in the No. 1 league. With this in mind they have battered and smashed their way through the season to date always keeping within reach of the leaders. With a possible tie for first place awaiting them they had to rest yesterday of sitting idly by and waiting for dryer weather. That ball game was scheduled for Tuesday, July 21 and on Tuesday, July 21 it would be played. And I might add for the benefit of everyone except Calvary Evangelical Sunday school that on Tuesday, July 21 it was played. Calvary doesn't need to be told. It already is well aware of the fact, having been handed a 3-2 beating and forced to move over and share the top with the winners.

Inasmuch as the average reader should have gathered by this time that there was a ball game yesterday between the Irish and Calvary it might be well to state that the other three games booked for yesterday were not played. Too much

SPORTS

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

NOW that the Irish of St. Mary's church have gone and messed up the standings again the No. 1 Sunday school league speculation once more becomes rife as to who is going to win the pennant. The victory of yesterday ties the green shirts with Calvary for the top with the Epworth Bishops a half game in the rear. The Bishops might be in a tie for first had they played yesterday with the Baptists. And again perhaps they wouldn't.

Calvary has a tougher schedule to go through the rest of the season than do the Irish, a point in favor of the latter, in case you're trying to pick the winner of the pennant. St. Mary meets Lee Street, Epworth Bishops and Epworth Seniors. Calvary plays Epworth No. 1, Trinity and Lee Street. The latter two have always been tough nuts for Calvary to crack. They'll be tougher than ever now that a pennant is hanging on the outcome.

• • •

Rain stopped the festivities all along the line yesterday but perhaps it will do better today. If it does there is every prospect of a thrilling battle between two Commercial league entries. Prospect Firemen and Kappas played a tie game earlier in the season and the two will make an effort to decide the deadlock today at Garfield park. This will be easily the outstanding game of the day although there are two others booked for other diamonds. Serv-U-Wel Grocers will clash with General Excavator at McKinley and the Gasco club will meet Silk Mill at the Shovel Athletic field. The latter game may be another hotly contested battle before the winner is decided. It was played once before and won by the Silk Mill but protested by the Gasco nine. The commission has ordered it replayed.

• • •

I suppose every member of the First Presbyterian softball team and a lot that are not have called me since yesterday's edition came off the press to see why they are not credited with a half game lead over St. Paul. As it is they are only given a tie in the standings, both with a percentage of .728.

You win. It's my error. The game with Wesley M. E. which was never completed, is counted in the standings and should not be. St. Paul has won seven games and lost three. The Presbyterians have won eight and lost three.

SECOND BENEFIT GAME BILLED

ALL-STAR TEAMS OF NO. 2 S. S. LEAGUE TO BATTLE NEXT WEEK

Proceeds of Fray for Aid of Don Cox, of Wesley, Injured Recently.

The second benefit softball program of the season has been arranged for play a week from today at Lincoln park. Two picked teams from the No. 2 Sunday school league will clash in the benefit, the proceeds to go to the aid of Donald Cox of Wesley M. E. Sunday school, who was injured recently in a game with St. Paul Lutheran. A dime will be charged for admission to the park. One of the picked teams will be played under the name of Castner's All-Stars and the other under the name of Fetter's Terriers. Paul Castner of the First Presbyterian team is manager of the first and "Bill" Fetter, Sr., of St. Paul Lutheran is the guiding hand of the latter.

Every team in the No. 2 circuit is represented by two or more players. Don Lindsey of St. Paul and Art Amick of Christian Seniors are to hurl for the All-Stars with Don. Shoemaker of First Presbyterian and "Mutt" Kellogg of Forest Lawn named to pitch for the Terriers.

The manager of each team in the No. 2 league has agreed to accept 200 tickets to sell for the benefit game. Two thousand will be printed. The complete lineup for the game will be as follows:

All-Stars — Lindsey, St. Paul, pitcher; Amick, Seniors, pitcher; Hinklin, Christian 1, catcher; Honiker, St. Paul, cacther; V. Gillis, Seniors, first base; Bill Fetter, Jr., Seniors, second base; Sawyer, Reformed, shortstop; Galliant, Presbyterian, third base; Sloat, St. Paul, left field; R. Peadon, Forest Lawn, center field; A. Yazel, Christian 1, right field; Lantz, Seniors, utility.

Terriers — Shoemaker, Presbyterian, pitcher; Kellogg, Forest Lawn, pitcher; Burklew, Reformed, catcher; Conroy, Presbyterian, catcher; J. Gillis, Christian 1, first base; Benson, Forest Lawn, second base; Pohler, Presbyterian, shortstop; G. Lashey, Wesley, third base; B. Tuttle, United Brethren, left field; F. Gustin, Wesley, center field; Manahan, Seniors, right field; Davis, St. Paul, utility.

In pursuance of an Order of Sale issued from said Court to me directed in the above entitled action, I will expose to sale, at public auction, at the door of the Court House in Marion, Marion County, Ohio, on Saturday, the 8th day of August, 1931, at 2 o'clock, P. M., the following described real estate, situate in the County of Marion and State of Ohio, and in the City of Marion, to-wit:

Known as being the West half of the South half of Out Lot Number Four (4) in East Marion, as described on the plat of East Marion, except Eighty-one (81) feet off of the North end thereof sold to Julia P. Eckert and Josephine Foye.

Said premises also known as being located at No. 446 East Church Street and improved with a modern 10 room Duplex and double garage.

Said premises appraised at $5,000.00 and cannot sell for less than two-thirds of the appraisement.

Terms of sale: Cash on day of sale. Advertised July 8th, 15th, 22nd, 29th and Aug. 5th, 1931.

CHARLES C. FYE,
Sheriff, Marion County, Ohio.
J. D. Williamson, Attorney.

ONLY TWO GAMES

After scheduling the Serv-U-Wel Grocers to play General Excavator today at McKinley park, Elmer Shaw, secretary of the city softball commission, discovered these two teams have played both of their games for this season. As a result the game listed between these two teams for today is called off. That leaves two games for today's schedule, Kappas vs. Prospect at Garfield and Gasco vs. Silk Mill at M. S. S.

BIRDS APPLY BRAKES TO WILDLY DASHING KANSAS CITY BLUES

Western Team Tripped In Nightcap of Double Header 7-2; Saints Beaten.

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 22— Kansas City's romp from the cellar to the first division in the American Association pennant marathon has been halted.

The stirring march of the Blues, a team even the home fans were about to forget a fortnight ago, lasted for 10 straight games and was interrupted yesterday by Columbus, just when it looked like the eleventh victory was certain to be stowed away in the record book. Columbus turned the big Blue tide by running riot with six runs in the eighth inning of the second game of yesterday's doubleheader and winning the game, 7 to 2.

Rally Is Fatal

After winning the first encounter, 5 to 2, for their tenth straight victory, the Blues came back with a pair of home runs in the first inning of the nightcap and coasted along with a one-run margin until the fatal eighth. Then the Birds coupled four hits and two walks with two errors for six runs to win. The defeat cost the Blues second place and kept them in fourth position, but it was the best comeback fight of the season. It pushed the Blues within six and one-half games of the top.

Louisville came back to defeat Minneapolis, 12 to 7, in a heavy hitting game and reduced St. Paul's margin on first place to five and one-half games yesterday. The Saints were dropped by Indianapolis, 11 to 3, to make the race a little more interesting. The Colonels shelled a quartet of Minneapolis pitchers for 20 hits, including four home runs. E. Funk derricked two balls for homers while Branom and Pitcher Penner contributed one apiece.

Saints Are Beaten

Indianapolis pounced on Slim Harris for seven runs in the first inning and added four for good measure in the sixth to win the series, three games to one, from the league leading Saints. Tom Angley of the Indians drove over four runs with two singles and a triple.

Americus Polli, Milwaukee's mound ace, clicked off his fourteenth victory of the season in impressive fashion to turn back Toledo, 4 to 1. He gave but five hits and would have kept the Mud Hens scoreless except for an error. The Brewers were limited to eight hits but they bunched enough of them in the sixth inning for all their runs.

All teams in the circuit were given holidays today because of travelling and the fact that they made up today's schedule with doubleheaders Sunday or yesterday.

ROBINS CONTINUE TO BATTLE WAY TOWARD NATIONAL LOOP TOP

Flock Now Appears as Only Team Able To Give Cards Battle.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Brooklyn fans were the kind to take anything calmly where baseball was concerned, they would have a good chance now to sit back watching the gyrations of some of their National league rivals and say "I told you so."

Brooklyn's Robins took a lot of punishment early in the season when they were failing to live up to pre-season predictions but now they look like the one club which may give the St. Louis Cardinals a run for their money. In the past week the Robins have climbed into second place at the expense of two powerful clubs, St. Louis and Chicago, shortly after a triumph over the New York Giants had put them within striking distance of the place.

Giants Slumping

Meeting the same teams, the Giants have lost six out of eight games while Brooklyn's 4-3 triumph over the Cubs yesterday made it five victories in eight contests. Frank O'Doul's big bat accounted for yesterday's game, driving in three of the four Robin counters with a pair of doubles.

The Giants talked themselves out of a game at St. Louis, leaving the Cards still six games in the van. New York gave Fred Fitzsimmons a three run lead in three innings. Then Fitz walked Frisch and protested violently on Umpire Cy Rigler's decision on the last ball. He finally went back to the mound and gave the Cards a flock of hits that produced five runs and the final count was 8 to 5 for St. Louis. Dave Bancroft, acting manager during the suspension of John Mc Graw, was banished during the dispute.

Can't Be Halted

Once more the American league's afternoon resulted in an advance for the Philadelphia Athletics, but it was the Boston Red Sox who furnished the excitement for the program. While the A's were picking up another game by beating Chicago, as Washington lost to Detroit, the Red Sox took a ten inning thriller from Cleveland and Wes Ferrell by a 3-2 count.

Minus their star slugger, Earl Webb, who put himself out of action by mistaking iodine for eyewash, the Sox slammed Ferrell for 13 hits and won out in the tenth when the Indian mound ace gave a pair of walks and Miller slapped a single through the infield. Hod Lisenbee and Wiley Moore limited the Indians to seven hits, the latter winning his second game of the series.

The Eighth Straight

The Athletics fell on Vic Frasier for five runs in the second inning and brought the count against Chicago up to 10 to 5 at the finish. It was their eighth straight victory and their thirteenth of the year over the White Sox.

Washington's Senators dropped to eight games behind the champions when they blew a three-run lead and Detroit pulled out a 4-3 decision in the ninth inning. Carl Fischer was unable to hold the early margin and Bump Hadley made one serious mistake in the ninth by pitching one ball that just suited Ray Hayworth. The Detroit catcher smacked it for a triple that drove in Koenig with the run that ended a seven-game losing streak. St. Louis and New York in the American league and Boston and Pittsburgh in the National, were halted by showers. The Phillies and Cincinnati had an open date.

SHARKEY FAVORITE TO WALLOP WALKER

Boston Gob Too Heavy, Ring Critics Agree, but It Will Be a Battle.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, July 22—Mickey Walker, 170 pounds of fighting man, battles Jack Sharkey, burly Boston sailor, in a 15-round bout in Ebbets field, Brooklyn, tonight with the Hearst milk fund as the principal beneficiary.

Sports writers who abandoned Mickey's nickname, "the toy bulldog" when the Rumson, N. J., battler graduated into the middleweight class will find it useful again tonight for that's what Walker will look like against a foe 30 pounds heavier and a full head taller.

The betting fraternity and the experts concede Walker little chance against a foe to whom he must grant such overwhelming physical advantages. Neither, perhaps do the fans but they are prepared to come out in large numbers on the chance that Mickey can overturn the dope.

The advance sale early today had reached approximately $100,000 and the promoters were hopeful of a total gate of about $200,000. The crowd probably will reach 25,000.

Walker's principal talents lie in his courage, ability to take punishment, endurance and his punching power, especially with left hooks. But expert opinion credit Sharkey, long recognized as the best of the American heavyweights, with a heavier punch and greater all-around strength.

Let Contract for Municipal Hospital at Bucyru

SANDUSKY MEN LOW BIDDERS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 22—Zelker and Millar, contracting firm of Sandusky, was awarded the general contract for the city's new municipal hospital by the hospital commission shortly before midnight Tuesday night after nearly 100 bids had been opened and considered. Contracts for heating, plumbing and electrical work were also awarded.

With all contracts awarded, outside of that for the elevator, the total for the building was $13,000 less than the anticipated amount of $100,000, bonds for which were approved last November.

To Start Work

Work on the new structure, which will be erected directly back of the present hospital building on north Sandusky avenue, will be started next week, probably Monday or Tuesday, the contractors promised the commission. It will be completed Feb. 1. It has been specified that Bucyrus labor be used.

The total amount of contracts awarded last night was $87,571. Zelker and Millar was the lowest bidder for the general contract with a bid of $66,325.

Black Brothers of Bucyrus were given the heating and plumbing contract on their bid of $14,745 and the Barnes-Joy company of Lima was given contract for electrical work on a bid of $6,501.

Pay Architect

The commission also voted to pay Thomas McLaughlin, Lima architect, his three per cent commission amounting to $2,627.13.

Nearly 100 contractors attended the letting which started at 1 p. m. All bids had been opened by evening when the commission went into session with the architect and various contractors who were called into the meeting for further discussion of their bids.

The new building will be a three-story structure with a tower above the main entrance. It will contain 36 beds which will be in 23 patient rooms. Two operating rooms, one for major and the other for minor operations, will be provided along with various other rooms incident to a modern hospital. The building will be of modern two-tone brick design. The old building will be razed upon its completion.

CHURCH BOAT IN BATTLE LINE

One of Excursion Party Hit by Bullet Fired in Attack on Rum Vessel.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 22—An excursion steamer with 1,000 members of a church young peoples society on board became the center of a brush between liquor runners and U. S. customs border patrolmen on the Detroit river last night, and one of the shots fired wounded an excursionist in the arm.

The fugitive speedboat and its crew of two escaped into Canadian waters, having dumped a part of its cargo.

The consensus of witnesses to the fast moving drama was that the shot which wounded Arthur Gajeski, 23, on the steamer Ste. Claire, probably ricocheted from the hull of the rum boat as it sped past the steamer. The Ste. Claire's rail was lined with merrymakers, who had deserted the dance floor to watch the chase.

First stories told by the passengers after they landed were that the rum boat had taken refuge from three pursuing boats alongside the steamer and that the crew of a border patrol boat had fired 40 shots at the two liquor runners, with Ste. Claire in the line of fire.

Walter S. Petty, assistant U. S. collector of customs, after interviewing the patrolmen involved, said it had been a running fight between the rum runners and the patrolmen, started by the smugglers, and that the patrolmen had withheld their fire when the Ste. Claire and a yacht that was passing in the channel, came in line.

Galion School Head Is Luncheon Speaker

GALION, July 22—J. F. Bemiller, superintendent of the public schools, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club Tuesday noon at the First Reformed church. 706 REGISTER FOR AUGUST PRIMARIES

Those Who Failed To List Names Will Be Ineligible To Cast Vote.

Seven hundred and six persons had either registered or transferred their registration when the offices of the board of election closed at midnight last night. Last night was the final opportunity of Marionites to qualify themselves to vote in the August primary, providing they were not properly registered.

Three hundred and sixty-six Marionites filed transfers of registration with C. G. Ritzler, deputy clerk of the board, this year. Persons who change their residences today or any time before the primaries Aug. 11 must vote in the precinct in which they formerly resided. Persons who moved their residence before last night and who failed to register the transfer can not vote in the primaries, Mr. Ritzler said.

New registrations this year total 340. These include persons who have reached the age of 21 and are entitled to vote this year, and persons whose names have been changed by marriage since the last registration.

Persons who failed to qualify as voters for the primary may register any time between 10 days after the primary and 20 days preceding the Nov. 4 election to gain the right to vote this fall.

The number of absent voters' ballots cast this year for the primaries increased to 15 today. New voters are Rhu Austin of 140 Baker street, Allen Burch of 701 Bennett street, G. H. Owens of 682 Woodrow avenue, Bert E. Hartman of 378 Girard avenue, Arthur F. Reissinger of 648 Catherine street and Addie L. Clark of 229 Clover avenue.

STOCK MARKET TRADING DULL

Popular Issues Affected in Two to Five Point Drops: Foreign Marts Weak.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 22—The pulse of the stock market was low, and its complexion pale, today.

While trading remained extremely dull, prices shrank steadily, losses ranging from one to five points in many of the principal shares. The list lost a sizable portion of its gradual advance of the past five sessions. The foreign markets were also weak, particularly Paris, and reports from the London conference were scarcely encouraging.

Several issues declined about two to five points, including American Can, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, Dupont, Johns Manville, U. S. Steel, Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Auburn and Eastman. Losses of around a point appeared in such stocks as General Electric, Radio, Consolidated Gas, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania.

Wall Street financial circues were generally coming to the view that little could be hoped from the London conference save sanction for the plan already in effect in New York and London, by which bankers are co-operating to maintain the volume of their short term credits in Germany. While speculative quarters have been inclined to hope for something more cheering, several leading bankers have held to this view for several days.

The weekly steel trade reviews were somewhat depressing, failing to bear out estimates yesterday that steel production had held about unchanged from the previous week. Both "Iron Age" and "Steel," which last week estimated operations at 32 and 33 per cent of capacity, placed them this week at 30 per cent, a new low for the depression. About the best the industry expects, apparently, is the maintenance of the current level through most of August.

The weeky report of electric power consumption showed the expected gain over the previous week, but failed to maintain the better comparison with a year ago.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

Apples at five pounds for 25 cents, peaches at four pounds for 25 cents and lemons at 40 cents a dozen, were among the specials being offered by dealers today as a mid-week offering. The offerings also included watermelons at 35 cents and currants at 15 cents or two quarts for 25 cents.

Other fruit and vegetable prices were fairly steady with supplies ample to meet the demand. Peas and beans were plentiful and were selling at three pounds for 25 cents. Cauliflower was not so plentiful and was selling at from 25 to 40 cents.

A few blackberries and raspberries continue to come on the market. The supply is limited, however, and dealers say this week will see the closing of the berry season. Watermelon and cantaloupe sales continue heavy, dealers report, despite the cooler weather. Bananas were being offered by several dealers today at five cents a pound, the supply is large and dealers hoped the special price would stimulate the sales.

Council Paves Way To Airport Purchase

Bucyrus Group Adopts Resolution Slated To Remove Obstacles.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 22—After failing for the past two months to purchase the 64-acre tract of land south of the city for airport purposes, city council Tuesday night, adopted an amended ordinance that is expected to override every impediment which heretofore delayed the purchase.

An ordinance was adopted by council May 19 authorizing the service director to purchase the tract of land for $15,000 after Mayor Arthur Schuler had for the second time vetoed legislation providing for the purchase. Schuler launched his fight against the purchase of a municipal landing field shortly after a $40,000 bond issue was approved by the voters in the November election in 1929, maintaining that prices asked for property for landing field purposes were exorbitant.

To Give Up Lease

Purchase of the 64-acre tract has been held up for the last two months for the reason that the owner, Peter Metzger was unable to furnish a deed free of encumbrance. Miss Lauretta Schimmoler, manager of Port Bucyrus, now located on the tract, who holds a lease expiring April 14, was called into conference by council Tuesday night and agreed to release her renewal rights to the lease, making the deed satisfactory to council which immediately adopted the amended ordinance authorizing the purchase of the tract.

Miss Schimmoler indicated that she would submit her bid to lease the port from the city when bids are advertised early next year. The port will continue in operation until the expiration of her present lease.

CITY BRIEFS

Leave Hospital—Mrs. C. L. Grange and infant son were removed from City hospital to 650 Mary street yesterday afternoon in the W. C Boyd invalid car.

Undergoes Operation — Thomas Brown of Marion R. F. D. No. 1 underwent an abdominal operation this morning at City hospital.

Boy Recovering—Conway Leeper, 8, who was injured in an automobile accident last week on the Green Camp pike, is improving at City hospital, officials said this morning. For several days the boy lay in a semi-conscious state and his condition was regarded as critical.

Report Car Stolen—The theft of a Studebaker sedan from the street in Findlay was reported to the local police by the police department of that city last night. The car was described as being a 1928 model with Ohio license B22-993 and motor number FB14220.

Permit Issued—A building permit to remodel a dwelling at a cost of $200 was issued by City Clerk Sylvester Larkin yesterday to Clyde Vance of 580 north State street.

Tools Stolen—Harold Chesser of 545 Silver street reported to the police this morning that someone had broken into the garage at his home last night and had taken a set of wrenches. The wrenches, he said, were in a green box with his name on the lid.

Returned to Lima—Thomas Pickering, a 14 year-old Lima boy, was picked up by the Erie police in the railroad yards early last night and taken to police headquarters suspected with being a runaway. He was returned to Lima today.

No Service—No prayer meeting services will be held tonight at First Presbyterian church. Rev. H. L. Olewiler, pastor, made the announcement this morning.

Return from Funeral—Mr. and Mrs. Marion Denny and daughter of 378 Avondale avenue, Mrs. Russell Bond and children, Mr. and Mrs. William Rizor and Frank Hosker, also of Avondale avenue, have returned from Rockford, O., where they were called to attend the funeral services for Charles Shingledecker, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Thomas Rizor and an uncle of Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Denny and Mrs. William Rizor. Mr. Shingledecker was instantly killed when a truck trailer struck his car while he was returning from Indiana to his home in Rockford.

CONDUCT RITES

Cousin of Late President Harding Is Buried Today.

BUCYRUS, July 22—Funeral services were held today at 3 p. m. at Crestline for Mrs. George Reed, first cousin of the late President Warren G. Harding, who died at Crestline Emergency hospital Monday afternoon. Interment was made in the Fairview cemetery at Galion.

Mrs. Reed was born April 10, 1863, on a farm in Morrow county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Wiley E. Dickerson. She was united in marriage Oct. 24, 1894, to George Reed. Her death was due to complication of diseases from which she has suffered for a period of four years.

A new electric door announcer for apartment houses enables a caller to know if a person is out or at home and, in the latter case, to be informed that he will appear at the door in a minute.

Methodist District Head Hurt in Auto Accident

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., July 22—Rev. Foster C. Anderson, 45, superintendent of the Mansfield district of the Methodist Episcopal church, was injured seriously when his automobile struck a bridge near Sunbury early today.

Mr. Anderson was returning to his home here from an address at Danville, O., when the automobile skidded into the bridge on a curve and was wrecked. Hospital attaches said he received a fractured hip, head injuries and possible internal injuries.

An automobile built by a famous English expert is so perfectly stream lined that it runs faster with the body on than when the chassis is striped.

More than $20,000.00 Worth of Prizes

$500 FIRST PRIZE

Get in the CONTEST and WIN a big

EVERYBODY can enter the Kelvinator Contest, the greatest Contest in electric refrigeration history. $20,000.00 in cash and merchandise prizes. $5,000.00 First Prize—the $1,250.00 Kelvinator and 35 Kelvinators that are worth from $678.00 down.

There is nothing to keep YOU from winning. No money needed. All you have to do is check a few facts about the Kelvinator against the Standard Ratings which you can get from any of the Kelvinator dealers listed below—and then write a letter of not more than 300 words, in your own language, on "What I have learned about Kelvinators" and send the letter and the Score Card to Contest Headquarters, Kelvinator Corporation, Detroit, Michigan, for entry in the Contest.

This Contest offers you the possibility of a handsome return on a very little effort. A call on any of the dealers listed below—10 minutes or so to inspect the Kelvinator—30 minutes more to write a simple letter—and you may win the $1,250.00 Kelvinator and 36 other big prizes at stake. Remember, the Contest closes at midnight, August 31st. You have a chance to win if you get started RIGHT NOW.
